THE VIRGINIA PANIC.

Yesterday afternoon a train on the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., was boarded by the Virginia Fencibles at Martinsburg station, and three Cincinnati merchants were taken thence and imprisoned! The authority for this high-handed act seems to have proceeded from Gen. Taliaferro. The alleged offence was that one of the gentlemen had remarked, doubtless in jest, that the next train from Wheeling would bring passengers enough to take the State of Virginia. A lame apology, evidently indited by the officers of the Baltimore and Ohio R. R., forms the sequel to the outrage.

Peoria City Election—A Clean Republican Sweep.

The Republicans carried the city of Peoria at the charter election on Monday last by majorities ranging from 15 to 258, electing every man on their ticket except two police constables. The vote was as follows:

The War Commenced.

The war between the Galena and Chicago Union, and the Kenosha and Rockford Railroad Companies has commenced. The Galena Company have reduced their freight tariff considerably below that of the Kenosha and Rockford. The following is the table of freights;

	New Rates. Cents.	Old Rates. Cents.
1st Class, per 100 lbs	18	28
2d " "	16	24
3d " "	14	19
Special freight	12	14
Wheat, per bu	4	6½
Flour, per bbl	25	40
Salt, per bbl	25	40
Lumber, per m feet	$2.75	$3.50
Coal and Pig Iron, per ton	1.60	2.50

Passenger fare remains as it is at present, but will be considerably reduced within a few days.

Chicago Historical Society.

The adjourned annual meeting of this Society was held on the evening of the 29th ult., at the house of W. H. Brown, Esq.

The annual report of the Secretary commenced with a comparison of the number of literary and scientific associations in Chicago, ten years since and now, consisting then of the Young Men's Association, founded in 1841, the Mechanics' Institute in 1842, the Rush Medical College in 1843, and the University of St. Mary's of the Lake, in 1844. To these are now added the endowment of three Universities, the Northwestern, the Chicago, and the Lind—an academy of Sciences, two new professional Schools, of Medicine and of Law, a College of Pharmacy, a charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary, besides five Theological Seminaries. To these might be properly added the Audubon Club, devoted to the birds and fauna of the North-West, and several associations for professional culture—forming, with our excellent system of public schools, an imposing array of literary, scientific and professional appliances, which our community should be proud to cherish.

The reported additions for the year to the Library of the Society reached the number of 5,084, making the aggregate 23,816,—the amount expended in the purchase of books hardly exceeding one hundred dollars. The beautiful work by Lord Kingsborough, on the Antiquities of Mexico, a contribution for the year, was exhibited at the meeting.

The Secretary dwelt at some length on the Society's efforts to procure suitable memorials of the most distinguished founders of our State. Besides having already obtained memoirs of Daniel P. Cook, and a partial one of Morris Birkbeck; they are now in possession of an extensive work on the life and times of the late Gov. Edwards, and anticipate the early completion of similar tributes to Judge Pope and others. Allusion was made to the reviving interest in historical inquiries in our State, as evidenced by numerous publications by county journals, of county histories, among which were named Peoria, Ogle, and Schuyler Counties, and the organization of Associations of "Old Settlers" at Springfield and elsewhere.

The report proceeded to notice the late exhibition of the Fine Arts in Chicago, towards which the first meeting was held on the 22d of March, the invitation to contributors announced the 12th of April, and the exhibition was opened to the public the 9th of May. The collections consisted of twenty specimens of statuary, over 320 paintings in oil, with some twenty in crayon, or water-colors. There were catalogued 369 works of art, from about seventy contributors. Twelve thousand persons were registered as the whole number of visitors, producing in gross receipts from admission tickets and the sale of catalogues $1,942.99; of which was expended $1,123.55, leaving a surplus of $819.44. By a vote of the contributors, this amount was placed at the disposal of Mr. Volk, the curator, to assist his wish of revisiting Italy: the artist in return to execute a bust in marble, for the Library of the Historical Society. Notice was taken in the report of the merit of the works on exhibition, the general favor with which it was received and its benefits in promoting a higher taste for art; and the zeal, judgment and fidelity of the curator, on whom the chief executive labor had devolved, was favorably referred to. Allusion was also made to a tasteful model, moulded in clay, which was exhibited at the meeting, and was the work of an artist of this city.

The report closed with suggestions on the desirableness, at the favorable time, of adding to the library a reading room, to be suitably decorated, and furnished with the best select publications of our modern literature, as they appear, thus organizing an atheneum as an appendage of the Society.

The report of the Secretary was followed by an address from I. N. Arnold, Esq., the principal subject of which was Magna Charta. This interesting paper, on a subject seldom brought to public attention, recited the history of the origin of that celebrated charter of English liberty, traced the struggles which followed its grant by King John, and the influence of the provisions as displayed in the legislation and jurisprudence of Great Britain, as well as the various declarations of rights proclaimed by the American colonies organized in the Declaration of American Independence, and embodied in the institutions and laws of the several states of the Union, including the State of Illinois. The address presented an interesting contrast of the assemblage of the Barons and Knights of England, at Runnymede, in 1215, and the convention of the Congress of the confederated Colonies, at Independence Hall, in Philadelphia in 1776.

At the close of Mr. Arnold's address, the Secretary announced that intelligence had been received by telegraph of the death of Washington Irving, a name honored wherever the the English tongue was spoken and known. As an expression of the sentiments of our community, on the occasion of an event so mournful, he submitted the following resolution, which was seconded by J. E. Wilkins, Esq., British Consul in this city, and then unanimously passed.

"Whereas this society, with its assembled friends, have just received the painful and sudden intelligence of the decease of Washington Irving, a name long illustrious and honored in our American literature, which he has so largely aided to form, to enrich and to adorn, by his genius and various labors, and which has honored our common country throughout the civilized world.

Resolved, That the members of this Society place on their records this expression of their profound sorrow, in common with all the people of this country, at the removal by death of one, the numerous excellencies of whose personal character and private life, the ardor of whose patriotism, and the desirable value of whose contributions to our national history and literature, will forever endear his memory to all American hearts, and entitle his name to an exalted place in the roll of eminent men who have been the chief ornaments and benefactors of our country."

After a pleasant interchange of conversation by the assembly present, and a participation in the hospitalities tendered by the President of the Society, the meeting was dissolved.

The Execution of Brown—Its Observance in Wisconsin.

Friday, the second day of December, 1859, will be the most important day that has dawned upon the American people since the Fourth of July, 1776. True, there are those who will sneer at this assertion just as there were those who sneered as the bells were rung when Independence was declared. On Friday next the "MOURNERS OF THE PRESIDENTS," proposes to ring another bell for the liberty of the colored race. It may give out a solemn sound, but we must remember that all great events have a solemn birth, and it was a sober, solemn hand that rolled the stone away from the place where the body of the glorious Christ lay, and it takes a sober hand to roll away the stone from the sepulchre where four millions of human beings lie entombed in a living grave!

We understand that a movement is on foot to have a meeting on Friday next, at the Chamber of Commerce, to observe the hanging of John Brown. The hour has not been determined upon, but it will probably take place at three o'clock.—Milwaukee Free Democrat.

The martyrdom of John Brown will be celebrated in this city as soon as they hang him. The anniversary of his slaughter will ever after be celebrated by freemen as a jubilee of liberty. The best speakers in the State will be engaged. The fete will be observed without respect to politics or parties. Every man who has a soul or a sentiment will have an opportunity to show it.—Racine Journal.

THE CITY.

EXECUTION OF JOHN BROWN!—We are requested to state that there will be meetings for prayer and addresses on the present aspect of the anti-slavery cause, especially in view of the recent proceedings in Virginia, this (Friday) evening, at 7½ o'clock, in the First Congregational Church (corner W. Washington and Green streets) and in the Plymouth Church (corner Van Buren and Edina Place). "Remember them that are in bonds as bound with them."

ANOTHER.—The German "Jefferson Club" will hold a meeting at Kinzie Hall, North Division, this evening, to observe in an appropriate manner the death of John Brown. The friends of universal freedom, German and English, are invited to attend.

THE JUMPERTZ CASE.—The defence closed their testimony yesterday, and a few witnesses were called and re-called by the people. The testimony will doubtless be finished to-day.

"COME AGAIN JACK."—Jack Francis an old habitue of Bridewell has returned to his old quarters on account of a high old drunk. His correspondents may address him as above for ninety days.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—The Church Record says the Rev. Mr. Hodges has accepted the call extended to him by the Church of the Holy Communion of this city, and will enter upon his duties immediately.

PLENTY OF OPERA.—We shall have two Opera companies, performing at the same time, in this city, next week, to wit: the Parodi Italian Opera Troupe at Metropolitan Hall, and the Lucy Escott English Opera Company at McVicker's Theatre.

THE LATE GALE.—We learn that in the terrible gale on the night of the 25th, the Church of the Holy Communion was seriously damaged. A large part of the plaster was shaken off, and some of the ribs of the ceiling were broken. It will be re-plastered at once.

"UNSAFE BUILDINGS."—By an inadvertence the communication "Unsafe Buildings," intended for our last issue failed to appear, and thus the comments with which which we had accompanied it, came out companionless. We call attention to the reply to Mr. Van Osdel's late strictures upon our course in reference to unsafe buildings. The writer, we can assure Mr. Van Osdel, knows what he is writing about.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday's weather was bad, boisterous, breezy, as well as reeking, rainy, wretched, with streets moist, muddy, and miserable. Out of door operations were at a stand-still. Everybody that could do so remained in snug harbor. Those who went to hear "Doesticks" at Metropolitan Hall last evening had need of a liberal share of that they went to hear about—"Pluck."

FAILURE OF GRAIN OPERATORS.—Two operators in grain about the Galena depot, failed yesterday for about half a bushel apiece. Their names are James O'Martin and Nicholas Schuh. Each did well in street operations, picking up grain spilled about the track, but attempting to handle grain (not their own) in the depot was what caused their suspension. They were levied on by the police and will go to the Reform School. The warning is a salutary one to operators in cereals, aged twelve years or thereabouts.

NEW COMMISSION HOUSE.—Messrs. Watson V. Coe & Co. in another column make their announcement of copartnership formed, and of the field they are prepared to occupy among our business community. Mr. Coe, the senior of the house has a reputation well and solidly gained in our business circles, and in the new firm are associated with him gentlemen of integrity and enterprise, giving the house such qualities as will make their services valuable to all who may require the same in their departments of our produce and live stock markets. See their card.

THE BAD VIRGINIA SPELL (Not illustrated in Harper's Weekly Journal of Civilization.)
Cato.—"Did yer hear Sambo ob dat bad spell down in old Virginny. Shocking bad it was how dey spells dat ole word."
Sambo.—"How does dey, wat you means, nigga?"
Cato.—"Dey spells dat ole word wid a shiver now."
Sambo.—"Shive, eh. Spec dey's cold chills."
Cato.—"No, scare, Sambo, bad scare."
Sambo.—"Well, how does dey spell dat ole word? Why not tell what word dey spell wid a shiver?"
Cato.—"Well I splains it to yer comprehenshun. Dey spell de word now S-h-i-v—Shiv—e-r-l—erl—r-y—ry—Shiverlry. Der yer mind dat. All of ole John Brown."
(BOTH.—"Ya, ya, ya.")

ANNIVERSARY DINNER OF THE ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—This event took place at the Richmond House on Wednesday evening last. About one hundred gentlemen were present. The dinner was such as only mine hosts of the Richmond can furnish. Every delicacy which the season affords was furnished in abundance, and if the inner man was ever satisfied, it must have been on this occasion. At the conclusion of the material ceremonies, the feast of reason and flow of soul commenced. After a few introductory remarks by the President, J. R. Valentine, Esq., the following toasts, interspersed with speeches, songs, and music by the band were offered and received with decided manifestations of pleasure and approbation.

1st.—The day and a' wha honor it.
2d.—The Queen of Great Britain.
3d.—The President of the United States.
4th.—The Army and Navy of Great Britain and the United States.
5th.—The memory of Wallace and Bruce.
6th.—The memory of Washington.
7th.—The land we left and the land we live in.
8th.—The memory of Burns, Scott, Campbell and the Poets of Scotland.
9th.—May care and trouble ne'er fash, but mirth and joy be wi' us a'.

MISCELLANEOUS TOASTS.
1st.—The State and City of our adoption.
2d.—Our Sister Societies.
3d.—The Thistle, Rose and Shamrock.
4th.—The Press.
5th.—The Bench and Bar of Illinois.
6th.—The Chicago Highland Guards.
7th.—The Ladies.

Responses were made to the various toasts by Mayor Haines, John Henry Wilkins, Capt. McArthur, Coroner James, Robert Hervey, Daniel Cameron, Recorder Wilson, Alderman Alston, Robert Clark and others. Many of the speeches were very happy and elicited vociferous approbation. Messrs. Frank Lumbard, Wood, and Ballingall were in their best voice and gave their songs and glees with capital effect. At about three hours "ayont the twal" the party after singing "Auld Lang Syne" separated with many expressions of delight that the entertainment had been in every respect a success.

WARS AND RUMORS OF WARS.—John Fagan and Patrick Nugent, two of the roughs of society, in the course of their travels on Wednesday night created a fiery trail of small but sharp fights, and finally fell into the hands of the police. They were fined $10 each. Nugent is a hack-driver. Fagan was a new "gent" in this city, and being shown the elephant by his city friend. He will remember the animal's tusks.

John Folger and Charles Mack fell foul of Robert Morley, inn-keeper, on North Clark street, and gave him several proofs of their exuberant muscle. Morley looked upon their exertions with scarcely an eye of favor, in fact with two black eyes, and had them arrested. They were fined $10, which must be set down, from the two instances last named, as the winter rate for a moderate chunk of a fight.

There never was but one of woman kind who did not resent any and all invasions of the rights and rites of the laundry, and that was surely mother Eve in the happier ante-fig-leaf period. Since then the tampering with clothes lines not your own, and stealing rain water, have been capital and unpardonable crimes. Mrs. Bell tore down the clothes line of her neighbor, Mrs. Smith, and let the washing into the mud. Who could blame Mrs. Smith for manifesting her indignation by striking that Bell with a dipper. Then took place a fight which old Homer would have made three cantos of, first making use of a canter to get out of the way, for where hot soap suds and a wordy war are flying, look out for scalds and squalls. The belligerant and [illegible] Bell was fined $3 in yesterday's Police Court. [illegible] (clothes) lines after all did not fall to her in pleasant places.

Mendicancy—The Ministry at Large.

We are decidedly opposed to street begging. We deny that it is true charity to encourage, aid or abet the importunate army of professional mendicants who scour the city, haunt area doors, and carry their ever yawning baskets into the kitchens of our city dames. We believe that a large share are impostors, that the tales they tell of woes at homes where they claim famine sits hollow-eyed, are bogus, that a large share of the wholesome viands they beg are wasted, that the old clothes charitably passed over to their use, get pawned for rum or cover idle and indolent forms luxuriating in a coarse way over the often ample returns of street begging. We believe that too many of the wild Maggies and ragged Bobs that spend their time in collecting cold victuals, represent very little real destitution at home, that the pig and the cow and the poultry and a whole family of boarders feed on the bounty of our citizens. We believe that several hundred day-laborers, mostly, we might say, all of Celtic extraction, have left their wives and children in Chicago, for the winter, to live by begging—the husband and father at wages on some southern railroad enterprise, at his regular toil with barrow and shovel. That these families have regularly and deliberately quartered themselves upon our charitable citizens, and were the Relief Society to go into operation, you should see its rooms thronged day after day with the loud voiced dames thus deserted, eager for fine flour, tea, and sugar, and grumbling bitterly if these be denied them. And we believe further of these cormorant beggars, numbers are possessors of houses and lots, and others would keep a family of boarders on the proceed of their industry in asking alms. In a word we believe there is a fearful amount of imposition abroad in the land, and a liberal share in Chicago, and that while real destitution pines and pales, and sickens and dies in its wretched garret meekly and uncomplainingly, loud-voiced brawling mendicancy strong-armed leaps into the channels of public and private charity, scoops up the precious boon warm with the purest philanthropy, and while it devours and wastes, asks like Oliver "for more," or like the swine of scripture turns and rends the giver, unless the donation be doubled. This we believe. And we further believe that the Chicago Relief Society will never again open, with spasmodic and generous though mistaken zeal, its general disbursing office for provender. Let us have no more of such scenes where the strongest-armed and the loudest-voiced from an undistinguishable mob pressed so hardly upon the worried and over tasked almoners that they gave for no better reason than to get rid of these importunates. We believe no more funds will be wasted in such a way. All this too we believe.

And what then?

Old Hunks we saw you button up your pocket some minutes since, and even you, generous old Gunnybags, with a glitter in your eye your heart never caught sight of or it would have extinguished it instanter with a tear, drew a diagonal red line down across the contemplated column of your charities. Don't do anything rash. The poor we have always with us, there is scripture for that, and we have always you, Gunnybags, you and your warm class of men—warm in the Wall street phrase.

We think we have a better way as a city, in the various City Missions and lesser charitable Associations, established and sustained on the basis of intelligently bestowing the charities of our citizens. These follow home the gift, or precede it by a visit which shall tell just what is wanted and so apply it. Then there is neither waste nor want. No one is then feeding the McGillicuddy pigs, or nourishing the taste for strong drink in the elder McGillicuddies. If fuel is wanted, it is coal and wood that is given; if food, beef and mutton; and sweet charity never forgets in these intelligent distributions to shower softer and daintier gifts by the pallet of disease. So shall the widow rejoice, the orphan be glad, and the crippled strong man weep tears of joy as the mission angels might covet, is performed in households of want.

Of these city institutions, the MINISTRY AT LARGE has wrought nobly and well. Rev. Mr. Collyer has a heart as warm as one of the largest sized parlor stoves of Dr. Nott, and a quick intelligence, an industry and indefatigability which carries the warmth of the same into all parts of the city. We run the risk of shocking his modesty by such praise, but for the good of the cause he must consent that his preferences be thus sacrificed.

He and his predecessor, Rev. Mr. Hadley, have established the noble Christian enterprise firmly here in the hearts of our citizens, and it will be sustained. Its principle is to take the poor by the hand, not to feed them over the fence as the farmer feeds his Berkshires. To look into their homes, to make them feel that they are men and women; that they are children and not outcasts; whom God has made poor that his more favored ones may share that blessing He has reserved for the giver.

We hope no reader will say amen to the creed we have elaborated in our opening paragraphs unless he or she is ready to follow it with a ready adherence and pledge of support to some one of the forms of charity later suggested. God help your poor starring soul if you apply, as an astringent merely, your hatred of street begging. Better give, if the gift be wasted before your eyes, than not at all.

But just now the Ministry at Large is a heavy loser, and in it our city poor. By the fall of the east walls of the Music Hall the office and storeroom of good Mr. Collyer were crushed, and much clothing and staples of food destroyed. The loss is a serious one and the worse in that it deranges the machinery and devastates the garners whence charities were flowing, at the very season when the call is about to become most pressing.

Shall we sum up our overlong confession of faith in things charitable. Shall we place prominent our dislike of street begging, and encouraging the same, and give a still more prominent place to the evils of forbearing to give. The Ministry at Large deserves just now all that our charitable public can do for it, and this we say not to the exclusion of the claims of like enterprises springing up or already efficient under the auspices of some one or other of our religious denominations. Let our citizens turn all their gifts into these channels this winter and do it liberally. Clothing, food, fuel, money, let our housekeepers and our householders remember the poor, and the best means of reaching their needs; either go yourself or send your charities to those who will study actual needs.

LIFE INSURANCE.—We are pleased to learn that this class of security is being appreciated by our citizens. T. L. Miller, agent of the Manhattan Life Insurance Co. of New York, has issued for this Company in the last month over sixty policies, insuring over $200,000 on lives, for the benefit, in most cases, of the families of those insured.

The time is not distant when every man will make provision for his family by a policy on his life,—taking a small sum annually and placing it beyond the contingencies of business reverses.

As the holidays draw near, when a large amount of money is expended for presents, a portion of the money thus expended might wisely be devoted to this purpose, and thus place families above want, and taking it at this season of the year, it becomes an annual holiday gift.

Mr. Miller would be pleased to furnish to any one, statistics and facts in reference to this subject.

"ALMOST."—Though "almost never killed a man" as the phrase is, it is said that the dividing line from even a greater slaughter was a slight one at the railroad crossing of the State street horse railroad below Twelfth street, on Wednesday, when a horse car load of passengers got intensely frightened at a narrow escape from being run into by a freight train. The point is a good one for the drivers and flagmen to keep their eyes wide open tight.

DR. N. F. COOKE.—We call attention to this gentleman's card in our advertising columns.—While there are diverse opinions as to the merits of the system or theory under which Dr. C. practices, we believe there are no two [illegible] to his skill in the application of his theory to "the ills that flesh is heir to."

THE OPENING NIGHT OF THE YOUNG MEN'S ASSOCIATION LECTURE COURSE.—Last evening the opening night of the Lecture Course of the Young Men's Association, saw Metropolitan Hall filled with one of the best audiences that ever gathered for a like evening entertainment in Chicago. "Doesticks" drew a full house, and the Association thus drew a coveted success. Every seat was filled, the galleries were crowded, and this at the hour of opening.

The speaker, Mortimer M. Thompson, Esq., gave his hearers an excellent and entertaining poetical disquisition on "Pluck." The measure was the long, low easy stride of Pegasus which from common custom has become adapted to rostrum use. The theme was well chosen, well handled. The audience were well pleased, and Mr. Thompson left crowned with laurels or would have done so could his ears have caught the interchanged comments of the crowd as they slowly crushed their way down stairs.

We must not forget to say that "Doesticks" couldn't help, apropos to "Pluck," to refer to plucky old John Brown, whereat the audience on the last night on which it could do so over the living exemplar of such real pluck, manifested great enthusiasm. Altogether and throughout, well done, "Doesticks."

The President of the Association, E. S. Wells, Esq., introduced the evening's entertainment by a brief reference to the prospect and promise of the winter campaign, which, as we have said, is a most promising one. The officers of the Association are working nobly for its interests, and if our public meet them adequately the Association will this winter not only realize the hopes of its friends, but leave the envied results of the same in its treasury.

LARCENY.—A colored man named James Fields was arrested yesterday for stealing a wallet containing about twelve dollars, from Barton Ellis a man of his own color. He awaits examination.

"Unsafe Buildings."

Editors Press and Tribune:

The need of your just strictures, and suggestions as to the abuses practiced in this city in erecting unsafe buildings, has long been felt by any and all persons who have any interest in the matter or who have given it any attention, and the peculiar Architectural flutter in this morning's Times, shows not only that the birds are hit, but fairly and badly. Now, as Mr. Van Osdell has roundly asserted that buildings in Chicago are well built and display full architectural principles for strength, durability and beauty, perhaps he will point out in New York a few stores to match the following in Chicago, the four story brick building of Mr. Prescott on Lake street with eight inch walls, and joist going into them on both sides; Laflin's Water street block five stories high, with twelve inch walls and joist entering the wall four and six inches on both sides of ten or twelve walls in succession from both sides; the Kingsbury block with eight inch walls one story and scantling (pine) the other, three stores eighty feet front, four inch wall for west side; and new building No. 118 Lake street. Why did the Music Hall fall if properly built, while it was over half protected from the storm by brick buildings in front of it? Did any good building fall? or were roofs generally blown off? Why, even the hen-coop on the Court House did not go. No church steeple fell. The wood awnings are yet generally standing.

I assert, and am prepared to substantiate that in no other city are buildings put up with as little care and cost to make them fire and life proof as in Chicago; and more, that much of it is from the great anxiety of Architects to get up a large amount of rentable room for a little money, and thus induce persons to build, who would not if they were to follow the laws and good common sense, and put up good and safe buildings. As a proof of this, please notice the published cost of building in New York and Chicago. It costs more than double there than here to build their business blocks, while brick have ruled lower there than here, always. I need but point to Dunham's building on Water street, that fell as soon as well on fire. Also the store of D. B. Cooke, on Lake street, that fell before half burned out, and killed some twenty persons. Do stores fall in other places like these? If so, I would like to have them pointed out, and the reason for their falling given, if any can be, except that they were too cheaply built, and then not properly fastened and supported.

Yours, for fire proof, NEW COMER.

CORRECTION.—Editors Press and Tribune:—In your account of the State street fire in Wednesday morning's issue, you say that the loss of Brown & Sibley was fully covered by insurance of $925 in the "Peoria Insurance Co." Will you permit me to state that it was the new "City Insurance Co" of Peoria that had the loss, and not the old "Peoria Marine and Fire Insurance Co." The latter company had no insurance whatever on the property destroyed.

J. AUG. WRIGHT, Agent, Peoria M. and F. Ins. Co.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Go to John Jones, 119 Dearborn street, and get your clothes cleaned and repaired. They will be well done and at prices to suit the times.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—Seeing a big crowd near 98 Dearborn street, we rushed up and found that Cook & McLain had been caught in the act of making old and soiled garments look as fresh and glossy as if new, while at 125 Clark street the ladies are charmed with their skill in cleansing silks and woollens, and dyeing them to any shade desired.

ES-CAP-ADE.—As our friend Heavysides was walking out during the late gale, his fur hat "took wings and flew away." The value thereof induced him to give chase with the view of head-ing it; but after running it into the lake, he gave it up as a bootless (or rather hat-less) task, and telling it to go as fur as it pleased, crown-ed the whole by buying a new one from Loomis' splendid stock, at 98 Clark street.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Foreign News by the Europa.

SHANGHAI.—The Chinese government has repudiated the treaty with the United States by refusing to open the ports of Swatow and Tamsui as stipulated in the treaty.

PARIS, Nov. 19th.—No formal invitation have yet been sent by France to England, but Count Persigny has been instructed to arrange the preliminary conditions with Lord John Russell.

Austria and England have both protested against the establishment of the Regency in Italy.

The French perfects are instructed to invite the journals to be more circumspect in their language towards England. The 3 per cent. rents closed to-day at 68 85.

It is stated that Buoncompagnie would tender his resignation of the Regency to the Sardinian government.

Two British war steamers have succeeded in bringing off 350 Christians from the small ports of Morocco. A general massacre of the fugitives was feared. A Spanish army of 40,000 men was expected to land in Morocco early in December.

PARIS, Saturday.—The formal and official invitation will be sent to London from the Cabinets of Vienna and Paris simultaneously. The invitations will not be identical. Austria will propose that the Congress assemble in Paris, while France will abstain from indicating any place. It is certain that Austria, through the medium of Prince Metternich, has protested against the nomination of a regent by Piedmont, as such a regency would be contrary to the conditions of the treaty of peace signed at Zurich.

It is stated that England also had made representations against the regency.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times of Saturday, states that a confidential communication of an important nature has been addressed by the Minister of the Interior to all the Prefects of France, with a view of obviating the effect produced in England by the violent language of the French press. The Prefects are instructed to invite such journals to be more circumspect. The Minister says that the journal, while defending energetically the rights of the country, might easily avoid offending the susceptibility of a great people by pursuing this line of conduct; also that the dignity of the imperial policy may be reconciled with the interest of the alliance of France, and the maintenance of peace.

It is reported that Cardinal Antonelli will represent the Pope in the Congress.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The London Times, upon the San Juan difficulty, enlarges upon a general conviction that a war between America and England is impossible. It however says, there are some convictions which work out their own truth in practice, but there are others which tend to their own practical refutation. We sincerely hope that the different readings of the axiom that war with England and America is impossible may be an illustration of this truth. The editorial, after pointing out the importance of San Juan to England, and the impossibility of the surrender of it unless some very different title be brought forward from any yet seen, concludes by expressing much satisfaction that the right to the Island will be early discussed in Washington and London, while the affairs on the spot will remain in statu quo.

The London Herald understands that Mr. Lever has again offered to charter the Great Eastern for 12 months, but the proposal was refused without hesitation by the Directors.

The Times has again a disquieting article on the relations of England and France. It complains that in France every instrument that can work on public opinion is being employed to raise a violent spirit of animosity, and that the army is taught to look on a war with England as not remote. The Times cannot discover any serious question at issue between the two governments, and affirms that it is in the power of the Emperor alone to put an end to the state of things daily becoming more serious, and if he does not do so there is a reasonable ground for drawing a gloomy inference from his silence.

FRANCE.—Marquis Moustier, Ambassador to Berlin, is transferred to Vienna, vice Baron Bourgueney, who retires from public life. Prince Latour Dauvergne goes to Berlin.

Gen. Montauban is named General-in-Chief of the French expedition to China. This nomination is unpopular in the army.

Prince Metternich had received letter of credence as Austrian Ambassador to Paris.

The warlike article in the London Times of the 15th, had produced a great sensation. The Paris journals generally say that the views set forth are exaggerations, and that the unfriendly feeling if any exists is entirely owing to the violence of the British Press.

The harbor of Fecamp, near Havre, is to be transferred into a military port and arsenal.

The Ami De La Religion had published a letter purporting to be an answer to the King of Sardinia to Napoleon's recent letter. It is, however, pronounced a fabrication, and the journal will be prosecuted.

ITALY.—Parma, Modena, and Romagna have tendered thanks to Prince Carignan for naming a substitute, and informed him that they accepted with gratitude the regency of Buoncompagne.

The Paris Constitutionnel announces that the French government has recommended the cabinet of Turin to annul the expedient of the regency which is delegated to Buoncompagne, as such a course would prejudice the questions and encroach on the competency of the Congress.

It was said that the Sardinian Congress would be summoned to meet before the assembling of the Congress.

The question of the annexation of Italy is to be fully discussed, and numerous addresses from the people of the Duchies will be presented in order to give weight to their cause.

The Government of Bologna had decreed that there should be a suppression of the Inquisition.

The Piedmontese Gazette publishes a letter from Prince Cavagnan to Buoncompagne in which he refers to the repeated assurances of Napoleon, that there should be no intervention in Central Italy, and says that such assurances are an encouragement to the policy of the King who could never consent to let violence from without oppose the national will.

SPAIN.—The protest of the Moorish government against the conduct of Spain in declaring war is published. It asserts that the demands of Spain in each instance, upon being conceded were followed by increased pretensions, and also Morocco protests against Spain because that on three occasions she paid no attention to her engagements, and declared war without legitimate notice.

LATEST.

MADRID, Nov. 18.—The Correspondencia Autograph contradicts the rumor that Spain had received a diplomatic note from England relative to the Morocco expedition.

NAPLES.—Orders have been given to the Neapolitan Embassy to give a passport to all the Neapolitan exiles who may demand permission to return.

RUSSIA.—A dispatch from Varna reports for seven days awful gales, during which eighteen vessels were wrecked. No further particulars given.

Meeting of the Pennsylvania Opposition Congressmen.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—The members of Congress in Pennsylvania opposed to the present Administration held a caucus last evening at the St. Lawrence Hotel for the purpose of adopting measures to secure an early organization of the House of Representatives. Sixteen members were present, all of whom were from the various districts in the State outside of the city. Much surprise was expressed at the absence of the city delegation. Some of the members from the interior desired the delegation to unite and select candidates for the Speakership, Printer and Clerk, but a majority was opposed to any such action, and when the delegation met, a resolution, after considerable discussion, was adopted, to invite all the members of the House opposed to the Administration to meet them in Washington on Friday evening, for the purpose of uniting upon candidates for the various offices to be voted for on Monday.

Bank Frauds.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—Thursday last, Officer Reaney arrested a man on the Ohio and Mississippi train, having counterfeit tens on the Canal Bank, New Orleans. The officer obtained possession of papers showing that a party of eleven men had left Cairo for New Orleans with $125,000. These counterfeits were to be circulated in the South. A party of men of the same gang were arrested in St. Louis, but were discharged.

On the 25th a Third street bank received $2,000 on the Philadelphia Bank in exchange for gold. The notes were forwarded to Philadelphia and a dispatch was received yesterday, saying they were counterfeit. $2,000 of the same notes were found in another Third street bank yesterday.

The Overland Mail.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1.—The Overland Mail of the 11th passed Warsaw Mo., 218 miles west of St. Louis this evening, but there being no key to the express or mail bag at that point, a summary of the California news for the Associated Press could not be obtained.

Dr. Forney, Superintendent of Indian Affairs of that territory, has arrived with the remaining two survivors of the Mountain Meadow massacre, who served as witnesses in the investigation of that affair.

Further intelligence in reference to the discoveries in South-East Missouri, confirm previous reports.

Movements of Ocean Steamers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Saxonia for Southampton and Bremen took out $700,000 in specie.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The R. M. S. S. Europa from Liverpool via Halifax arrived at her dock at 7.30 this P. M. Her mails for the South go forward via New Haven in the morning.

A Conflict of Authorities.

SAVANNAH, November 30.—Choice, the murderer of Webb, having been pardoned by the Legislature, the Governor has vetoed the bill.

Trial of a Marine Engineer.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 30.—The trial of James, the head engineer of the S. S. Nashville, for murder on the high seas, has been commenced.

The Virginia Panic—Railroad Passengers Arrested and Imprisoned.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 30.—Three passengers by the western train on the B. & O. R. R. were taken out of the cars to-day on their arrival at Harper's Ferry, by the military, and imprisoned. The parties arrested are merchants from Cincinnati, who were on their way to this city. At Grafton they were heard to express themselves quite freely in relation to John Brown and his family, expressing great sympathy for him there.

SECOND DISPATCH.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 1.—The arrest of three persons at Martinsburg on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, was made on explicit information sent to Gen. Taliaferro by Virginia detectives from Grafton and other places west. Two of the three were thus arraigned, and the third was arrested for declaring that there would be men enough on the next train to take Virginia. Under these peculiar circumstances the road is not responsible, and excepting in this case no car of the Company has been invaded.

Treason on Foot in South Carolina.

COLUMBUS, S. C., Nov. 30.—The following resolutions were offered in the House to-day.

Resolved, That the state of South Carolina is ready to enter together with the other slave holding states or such as desire to present action for the foundation of a southern confederacy.

Resolved, That the Governor be requested to forward this resolution to the various southern executives.

Another resolution was offered asking official information as to the condition of the state arsenals, arms, ammunition, number of men enrolled in the state militia. The style of their arms, etc.

Slave Traders Acquitted.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Dec. 1.—The Grand Jury yesterday ignored the bill against Rogesta and Aquira, charged with being engaged in the slaver Wanderer affair. It is understood that the District Attorney will enter a nolle pros upon the other indictments against the same parties.

Political.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 1.—The Democratic elections yesterday for Delegates to the District Convention, resulted almost for the friends of Douglas.

CHICAGO PRESS AND TRIBUNE, FOR THE YEAR 1860.

Devoted to News, Commerce, Politics, Agriculture, Art, Science, and Literature.

The WEEKLY PRESS AND TRIBUNE is a large, first-class Western Newspaper, published every THURSDAY MORNING. It is filled with valuable and entertaining matter prepared expressly for Western readers. Its Editorials deal vigorously with all the topics of the times, and it boldly advocates those measures and principles deemed most calculated to promote the general welfare. In price and size of sheet, amount and freshness of intelligence, variety and value of information, fullness and accuracy of Commercial matter, and to whatever else goes to make up a First-Class Newspaper, we challenge comparison with any other journal East or West.

POLITICAL ISSUES

We are entering upon a year that will be memorable in the annals of American politics—the year that will witness, we trust, the election of a Republican President and the national triumph of Republican Principles. The great issues to be submitted to a jury of the whole people, are these: Shall Slavery be extended and protected by the Federal Government? Shall the public domain—the Free Territories of the Nation, be surrendered to the blighting intrusion of Slavery? Shall the Constitution be construed to recognize and support Slavery as a National Institution? Shall a Slave Code for the Territories be enacted? Shall the African Slave Trade be re-opened? In short, shall the doctrines of Calhoun, Judge Taney, and Buchanan supercede the principles of Free Government taught by Jefferson, Madison, and Clay? These questions will demand a verdict at the hands of the American people.

And there are other important considerations to be decided by the next campaign. Among these are, Free Homesteads for the landless. Improvement of rivers and Harbors. A Railroad to the Pacific on a central route. Encouragement of the Manufacturing and Farming industry of the country. Retrenchment and Reform in the Federal expenses;—a restoration, in fact, of the spirit simplicity, and policy, of the earlier and purer days of the Republic.

On all these questions and issues the PRESS AND TRIBUNE will occupy no neutral ground, but will ever be found an earnest champion on the side that will promote FREEDOM, PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY.

GENERAL CONTENTS.

The Literary and Miscellaneous matter is prepared with a view to making the paper a welcome family visitor, combining the agreeable and useful.

A considerable amount of space is devoted to matters pertaining to Agriculture, such as publishing reports of Fairs, Farmers' and Fruit grower's conventions, crop prospects and statistics, improved implements for farmers, and all other things of general interest to farmers.

Every issue of this paper contains a condensed review of the week, including the leading events happening in Europe and the United States, and the rest of the world.

Great labor and care are expended on the Market Reports. The quotations of grain, cattle, hogs, poultry, vegetables, lumber, etc., will far more than repay the reader the subscription price.

A satisfactory summary of the proceedings of Congress will appear weekly, and the more important speeches will be published in full. The doings of the coming Congress will be read with great interest by the whole country.

The PRESS AND TRIBUNE is a live newspaper and keeps fully up with the progress of the times, and its publishers are resolved to make it so instructive and valuable, that no "well regulated" Western family can afford to be without it.

A VALUABLE FEATURE.

The name of every subscriber is plainly printed on his paper, and also the time when his subscription will expire. This system prevents mistakes at the Post Offices, insures regularity in the delivery, and must prove very satisfactory to the patrons of the paper.

POSTAGE ON THE PRESS AND TRIBUNE.

The lawful postage on the Weekly PRESS AND TRIBUNE, within the State of Illinois, is only thirteen cents a year, if paid in advance; and outside of this State it is but twenty-six cents, if paid in advance.

REASONS FOR USING QUERU'S Cod Liver Oil Jelly. The N. Y. Academy of Medicine certify that it contains 85 per cent of Pure Cod Liver Oil. That it is an established fact that Oils, to be assimilated, must be transformed into emulsion in the stomach. That in most of the cases in which Cod Liver Oil is prescribed, the stomach of the patient is not in proper condition to make sufficiently all the amount of oil taken, that a great part, and sometimes the whole of the oil passes undigested, and is consequently inoperative. That my Cod Liver Oil Jelly being a compound of oil and sugar, is an emulsion of itself as soon as it reaches the stomach; which takes place as soon as it reaches the stomach. Whereas, in this form the Physicians believe Cod Liver Oil to be prescribed as a remedy, it therefore, my jelly is more reliable than the crude oil, because being a solid it must be digested. On account of those above considerations, the superiority of Queru's Cod Liver Oil Jelly over the crude oil is to be acknowledged as a positive and incontestable fact. Sold by FENTON & CO., 94 Lake street.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1859.

THE FATAL FRIDAY.

John Brown dies to-day! As Republicans, maintaining as we do, that neither individuals nor parties in the North have a right to interfere with slavery where it exists under the sanction of positive law in the States, we cannot say that he suffers unlawfully. The man's heroism which is as sublime as that of a martyr, his constancy to his convictions, his suffering, the disgraceful incidents of his trial, the poltroonery of those who will lead him forth to death, have excited throughout all the North strong feeling of sympathy in his behalf; but no where, within our knowledge, is the opinion entertained that he should not be held answerable for the legal consequence of his act. As long as we are a part of the Union, consenting to the bond by which the States are bound together, supporting the constitution and the laws, and using the language and entertaining the sentiments of loyalty, we cannot join in the execration of the extreme penalty which the unfortunate and infatuated old man will suffer. We may question the wisdom of the method by which he is punished—may believe that Virginia would have added to her honor and confounded her enemies, by an act of clemency toward him and his associates—may condemn in unmeasured terms the cowardice and blood-thirstiness which her people have displayed—but when we question the right of a Sovereign State to inflict a penalty for so glaring and fatal an infraction of her laws, we are advocating disunion in its most objectionable form. For that we are not prepared. We would be glad to avert the axe which hangs over the old man's head, if persuasion and entreaty would do it; but we see no way under Heaven by which, doing our duty as law-abiding citizens, we could counsel the use of force for his rescue, or by which we could join in a crusade against those by whom he has been legally though hastily, and because hastily, shamefully, condemned! We are not debarred, however, the right of praising the inherent though mistaken nobleness of the man, of pitying the fanaticism which led him into his present strait, of regretting that a character which might have been so illustrious in the history of his country, must be loaded with the consequences of his errors.

To our more radical readers these views will be unpalatable; but there are such that Republicans must entertain. When the national action of the South and the accumulated aggressions with which she has affected the North, dissolve the ties that hold the North and South together, and when we no longer owe allegiance to the constitution, and laws which the propagandists of Slavery have long trodden under their feet, then we may have reason, upon the broadest principles of human right, to not only bless but aid any work that will assist in the emancipation, by arms if necessary, of every human being on American soil. Until that time comes there is but one course left. That we have pointed out.

We have firm belief that this execution of Brown will hasten the downfall of that accursed system against which he waged war. Throughout all this land, men will not fail to see that there is a conflict between the principles of humanity that have obtained a lodgment in every human heart, and obedience to laws which all have tacitly agreed to support. The shock caused by his death will be more than a nine days wonder. The emotions excited and the reflections provoked by the tragedy, will go to the very foundations of our political structure, and in all parts of the Union men will ask themselves how long this institution which compels men to put to death their fellows like Brown, who act upon motives and for objects that command the approbation of the world, shall be suffered to disgrace the age and the civilization in which we live. The question will reach hearts that have been callous heretofore; and ere many years it will bring the opposing forces which now distract the country—right on the one side and wrong on the other—enlightenment and barbarism—Christianity and Atheism—Freedom and Slavery—face to face for a final conflict. We have no apprehension of the result, whenever it comes. The events of to-day bring it nearer than it has ever been before since the struggle began at Charlestown, Massachusetts, in 1775. It is our's, as it should have been Brown's, to labor and wait!

The Next National Republican Convention—The Place of Meeting.

The Madison (Ind.) Courier urges the propriety of selecting Indianapolis as the place for holding the next National Republican Convention. We doubt not the decision of the gentlemen who have the matter in charge will commend itself to the good sense of the entire party, when it shall be announced. Meanwhile we are prepared to second the motion for Indianapolis, for a variety of reasons which seem to us entitled to the earnest consideration of the Committee.

The session of the National Convention of 1856 at Philadelphia created the Republican party of that city. Not only so, but it exercised a greater influence by far than any other event in forming opinions throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey, where, until then, the principles of the party had gained no secure foothold. The Convention is naturally the largest and most influential mass meeting of the year. It should therefore be located in the place where, other things being equal, it is most needed, and will do the most good. We think it will be conceded that no State stands in more need of the benign influence than Indiana—that on none can such a power be more effectually expended than there. New England does not want it; New York does not; we think Pennsylvania does not, and there is an evident fitness holding it elsewhere next year. Ohio is so largely Republican already that the powder would be wasted on her. The same reason operates against Illinois so far as the city of Chicago is concerned. If it could be held at Springfield we should give our hearty assent to that location; but Springfield is too far West probably to meet the views of the larger portion of the delegates—it is not so easy of access from all points as Indianapolis—it is, perhaps, less able to accommodate the great concourse which would be drawn together—and the Republicans intend to carry Illinois next year without any extraneous aid. Moreover, Indianapolis is as easy of access to a considerable portion of Illinois as either Springfield or Chicago. We have no disposition to disparage the claims of the gallant Republicans of St. Louis, but we think all sober minded men, in Missouri and elsewhere, must concede the impossibility of carrying that State for any ticket nominated by a Republican Convention. And the holding of the Convention in that city or Wheeling would be looked upon by the public rather as an unfortunate bravado than a dignified assertion of "nationality." The Democratic Convention will be held in the most bitterly "sectional" city in the Union. Therefore the Republicans need not fear anything by the comparison if they do not carry their national meeting into a Slave State.

Indianapolis is one of the most accessible railroad centers in the United States. On the map it appears like the diverging point of a fan—no less than eight lines of railway passing through one depot in that city. In this respect no place in the country can claim an advantage over her. For all parts of Indiana, and for eastern and central Illinois, from which we shall wish to draw the largest audience, Indianapolis is within a few hours' ride. Then, as regards suitable accommodations for the Convention, there is a single hotel which would easily entertain all the delegates, and the large hall of the State House, would afford ample room for the business of the session. Apart from these, Indianapolis does not differ from other cities of twenty-five or thirty thousand inhabitants in its capacity to accommodate a crowd of people. In fact, this is a consideration which need give the committee no concern.

These views are given for what they are worth, without consultation with any member of the National Committee, or any citizen of Indiana, or any party in interest, whatsoever.

BLAIR'S LECTURE.

Hon. F. P. Blair, Jr., lectured in Cincinnati, before the Young Men's Mercantile Association, on Tuesday, his theme being the slavery question. Mr. Blair, as is well known, favors the expatriation or deportation of the colored people of the United States and their colonization by a great national movement in Central America. This policy was strongly supported in Mr. Blair's able address. His views coinciding with those entertained by Mr. Jefferson, are worthy of grave consideration.

MONEY IN ELECTIONS.

"An Old Whig" entertains the readers of the PRESS AND TRIBUNE, this morning, with a dissertation on the use of money in elections. If he will go to the root of the evil, let him look at the practices of the Democracy, the only party that has reduced bribery to an art. To their influence and example must we look for the debasement which attends our political contests. Until that party is dispossessed of the money bags of the nation and thrown back upon the pecuniary resources of its members, the Republicans and with them the "Old Line Whigs" must fight corruption in all its forms.

CORRECTION.

We are requested to say that the George Gilbert, now under arrest in St. Louis for uttering the notes of the fraudulent Hartford Exchange Bank of Indiana, has never had, as was stated by us, any connection with the Western Valley Insurance Company of this city. The Mr. S. M. Gilbert who was an officer of that concern, is now of the firm of Ladd & Gilbert, commission merchants, and has, so far as we are aware, nothing to do with the manufacture or circulation of bogus money. Of course, our strictures upon the St. Louis Gilbert are inapplicable to him.

The Minnesota Senatorship.

Candidates seem to be multiplying for the vacant seat in the U. S. Senate belonging to Minnesota. The St. Paul Times mentions the names of Hon. Morton S. Wilkinson, of Blue Earth County; Hon. Charles McClure, of Goodhue County; Hon. Daniel Norton, of Winona County; Hon. John W. North, of Rice County; Hon. Aaron Goodrich and Hon. David Cooper, of Ramsey County—to which the Minnesotian adds those of H. W. Holley and Simeon Smith, of Fillmore; J. H. Baker, of Blue Earth; Henry A. Swift, of Nicollet; Thomas J. Galbraith, of Scott; F. R. E. Cornell, of Hennepin; John D. Ludden and J. W. Furber, of Washington; Wm. L. Banning, John B. Sanborn, George A. Nourse, H. R. Biglow, J. Jay Knox, S. Mayall, of St. Paul; Charles H. Lindsley, of Olmstead; Wm. Mitchell, St. A. D. Balcombe, and H. Sargent, of Winona; Amos Cogswell, of Steele; Clark W. Thompson, of Houston; Stephen Miller, of Stearns; W. H. C. Folsom, and Lucas K. Stannard, of Chisago.

Erratum.

The Havana (Ill.) Gazette corrects a mistake which certain Democratic journals in central Illinois have fallen into, of calling the Chicago Democrat a Republican paper.

Beloit College.

The catalogue of the Beloit College informs us that there are in that institution 157 students, divided as follows:—seniors, 8; juniors, 8; sophomores, 21; freshmen, 23; normal students, 69; preparatory students, 94. The libraries of the college and societies contain about 4,000 volumes, and arrangements are made for the progressive increase of the college library in the future.

☞ Mr. "Occasional," the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, occasionally ridicules the difficulty which some people meet with in finding him out. He indulges in a good deal of quiet hilarity in that behalf in the Press of the 29th ult. It will not detract from the value of the "Occasional" letters if it be known that the identity of that person is mythical—that he consists of the editor of the Press on the one hand, and three or four clerks in the Departments at Washington on the other. The clerks furnish the news when there is any to send, and the editor does the writing. In the absence of news, Mr. "Occasional" dishes up interesting reminiscences of political history, or semi-editorials for the readers of the Press.

The Illinois Southern Railroad.

The Mount Carmel (Wabash County) Register has the following intelligence concerning the progress of this road, which is projected from Vincennes (Ind.) to Mound City (Ill.) a few miles above Cairo:

"We are happy to be able to state, on good authority, that a contract for the construction of the whole line of the Illinois Southern Railroad has been entered into between Judge Wilkinson, the new President, and the Messrs. Stanton, subject to the approval of the Directors, of which there is no doubt. From the known ability and energy of the contractors, the public will now feel an increased confidence in the speedy completion of the road. The terms of this important contract have not been made public, but from the tact and ability of both parties, the public have the fullest guaranty of its accomplishing the great end in view."

The Grayville (White County) Independent doubts the correctness of this information.

Re-enslavement of Free Negroes in the South.

The following is a bill recently introduced in the Legislature of Mississippi for the re-enslavement of the free negroes of that State:

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi, That from and after the 1st day of July, 1860, it shall be unlawful for any free negro, or mulatto to be found in this State, under any pretence whatsoever; and every free negro, or mulatto, so found may be indicted in any county where found, or in any adjoining county, and on conviction, shall be sold into absolute slavery. The sheriff of the proper county shall sell such negro, or mulatto, at the door of the court house of said county, for cash, after giving such notice as the court shall direct, and shall pay the net proceeds of sale into the treasury of the county where the indictment was found.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That if any person shall, by pretending to be owner, or by any other means, endeavor to shield or protect any free negro or mulatto against the provisions of this act, such person so offending shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding six months.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That an indictment under this act and proof that the negro or mulatto acted as if free shall be sufficient prima facie evidence of the fact.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That, if the owner of any slave shall permit such slave to hire his or her time, or otherwise act as free, such owner shall be fined not exceeding one thousand dollars. And such slave may be indicted and sold as a free negro unlawfully in the State.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That free negroes or mulattoes are hereby declared incapable of inheriting, acquiring, or holding any property in this State; nor shall any property be removed from the State for the benefit of any such person.

NON-INTERCOURSE WITH THE NORTH.—Under the heading of "Non-Intercourse with the North," the Richmond Whig, of Thursday, publishes an editorial, from which the following is an extract:

"We cordially approve the idea of the formation of voluntary associations throughout Virginia and the South, bound together by a common pledge among themselves neither to eat, drink, wear, buy, nor use any article whatsoever manufactured at or imported from the North. Our fathers in the revolution made and carried out a similar pledge in regard to importations from the mother country, and thus evinced a patriotic self-denial which has no parallel in history. We of the South must imitate their glorious example, if we would not be longer tributary to those who are fast getting to be our worst enemies."

Destructive Fire in St. Joseph, Mo.—Loss Nearly $20,000.

Yesterday morning, between 1 and 2 o'clock, the large frame steam flouring mill situated on Main street, and owned by Mr. James W. Whitehead, was discovered to be on fire. The flames were first seen shooting upwards from the roof, and as there was no fire or light in that part of the building, the origin of the conflagration is not known. The mill had been running during the day previous, but was stopped about dark or a little after. The loss of Messrs. Buell and Nixon will be about four thousand dollars, upon which there was no insurance.

The mill was owned by Mr. Jas. W. Whitehead, and was worth, with all the appurtenances, not less than fifteen thousand dollars. The loss falls heavily upon Mr. Whitehead, particularly at this time.

The value of property destroyed by this fire is greater than any that has occurred in this city for eight or ten years.—St. Joseph Gazette, Nov. 24th.

☞ We have the pleasure of announcing to our readers that John M. Wilson, late editor of the Olney Republican, and more recently of the Olney Press, has left the Democratic party. We are assured by Mr. Wilson that this step has been taken after mature deliberation on his part. For sometime he has had misgivings about the purposes of that party with regard to the slavery question, and has watched their progress until he has become convinced that the spread of slavery was the fixed purpose of the Democracy, and the declaration of Senator Douglas that he did not care whether slavery was voted up or voted down, looked too much the Demagogue to command the respect and support of those who desire to set it in course of ultimate extinction, as contemplated by the founders of the government. No man has been a more zealous partisan than Mr. Wilson, and he will make quite a formidable antagonist when arrayed against the party he so long represented.—Olney (Richland Co.) Times.

☞ Several of the Opposition journals of Missouri are bringing forward James S. Rollins for a special gubernatorial race in that State.

THE USE OF MONEY IN ELECTIONS.

The Atlas and Argus of the good old city of Albany has had the moral courage to emerge from the polution and pestilence of the political corruptions of the times, and speaks forth the words of truth in soberness that is refreshing and admonitory to all men who hold the cause of truth and the purity of the ballot-box in this Republic as things to be preserved.

We, too, in our humble way, have endeavored more privately to call the attention of our friends to this subject, one that promises the greatest amount of evil and ills in the future, to wit:—the corrupt use of money to influence the results of our annual elections. We have stated that the amount used in this city alone, averaged at least ten thousand dollars per year, and that, not in defraying the legitimate expenses, but in the direct and absolute purchase of votes. Everybody knows the truth of this—everybody speaks of it—every honest citizen deprecates it as a monstrous evil, aye, and an agrieving one, too.

We have been censured by some for making such a statement—not that we exaggerated, for nobody doubted the entire truth of what we asserted, in all the length and breadth of its enormity—but the facts are not to be spoken of publicly. It is said the reputation of the city, of the State, the character of the people, the right of suffrage, republicanism itself, will suffer by a publication and discussion of the prodigious fact. It is said, moreover, that decent men, people who claim to be respectable, men of reputation, members of churches, guardians of the morals of the young—men of high morality are engaged in this wholesale traffic in votes, whose feelings have been, or would be injured by our strictures. Well, what of that? If men who know better, whose intelligence, whose position in society, whose professions would lead us to hope for a different example on their part, choose to embark in this system of bribery and corruption, that is not our fault, and if their feelings are hurt by our exposure of this fact, we cannot help it, and would not if we could. Decent people have no right to give or beg money to be used for the purpose of bribery. Respectable people have no right to violate a law that is sanctioned by every precept of morality, and upheld by every principle of patriotism; men of reputation, members of churches have no business to be engaged in practices which dishonor alike the church, their faith and the State—practices which, instead of leading men to become good citizens and pious Christians, encourage them in the downward career of wickedness and immorality.

This annual raising of a corruption fund, and using it for the purchase of votes, is only the greater evil, and the more dangerous because it is sanctioned by these decent, respectable, moral people. That it is so sanctioned is demonstrative of the extent to which it has already spread; and of the necessity that it should be looked to now. It is immoral. Does anybody dispute it? It is dishonest. Does anybody dispute? It is opposed to every sentiment of patriotism. Does anybody deny it? It is distructive of the party, as well as the perpetuity of our institutions. Does anybody gainsay it? The law denounces it. Every honest man should denounce it. Every good citizen will denounce it. Does any decent man question these propositions? But it is not enough that these truths should be admitted in the abstract. Something should be done, as well as said, to arrest the progress of this monstrous evil that is undermining the public virtue, and making the elective franchise a bye-word and a reproach. Every man engaged in it should be denounced and shunned by honest men. Decent men, patriotic men, should shun him. Who regards the man who sells his vote, anything short of knave? What else than a knave, is the man who buys his vote? He who incites the thief to steal, and knowingly profits by the plunder, stands in the law estimations, and in the estimations of every honest man, on the same platform with the thief himself. So the briber and the bribed should find a common level in the regards of every gentleman, and receive the same measure of contempt.

But it is said that this system of corruption has become so common, that to attempt to resist it is folly. We deny it. There is self-respect, public morality, patriotism, common integrity enough left to resist and reform the evil. Let men who respect themselves, refuse to go about like mendicants, begging for supplies to purchase men like cattle in the market. Leave that labor to mean men, who are dispised and willing to be dispised, for the share of the plunder they acquire.

Let men who respect themselves refuse to contribute. Let them spurn the men who seek their contributions. Let the collectors of these taxes sought to be levied upon honest men to buy up and support the purchaseable vagabonds who make merchandize of their rights as freemen, be regarded as on the same level with the knaves they seek to purchase, and our word for it, this system will fall. When decent men, respectable men, church members, men claiming to be moral, and teachers of morality come to understand that good men despise them for defiling themselves with these illegal, immoral and dishonest practices, they will let them alone.

Let us go a little deeper into this matter. Every man who gives is cheated, as he ought to be certainly, but he is cheated. Even the miserable knave who sells his vote is defrauded of half the fund raised as a reward for his rascality. Who does not know that half the amount contributed as a corruption fund never gets beyond the pockets of the collectors. Look around and see the men who cry loudest for the raising of money for election purposes. Did any body ever hear of one of them who was poorer after election than he was before? If they ever pay a bill at all, they happen strangely enough to have the wherewith to do it just at the close of elections. They, of course, scorn a bribe. They are buyers, not sellers of votes, except perhaps in commission. Still they have more money, as a general thing, just after an election than at any other season of the year. It is entirely true that there are men who go upon these mendicant committees who have character enough to warrant their being trusted on all ordinary occasions, but who does not feel that in such a business the funds entrusted to them for such dishonest purposes will be in great danger of a personal appropriation, even by these decent, respectable, moral people, who go about begging money for the very worst kind of knavery.

But the contributor is cheated in another respect, as we say again, he certainly ought to be. These collectors of the corruption fund have purposes of their own to serve. They have some individual on the ticket whom they desire to push ahead, or whom they wish to defeat. To this end the fund contributed for general purposes are applied by these disinterested corruption committees who get great credit for their zeal and liberality. Every politician knows that all these matters are plain, simple truths, demonstrated by the experience of every year. They are a reproach to the country, to the intelligence of the age, subversive of public morality, destructive to public virtue. Let every honest citizen think of this wide spread and still spreading corruption. Let him remember that it has come to be a practical fact in this city and country, that the man who becomes a candidate for office must pay for his nomination first, and then pay for his election. Ask any candidate who was elected to office this fall if the emoluments of his office will cover the expenses of his election? Not one, who speaks truly, but will answer in the negative. And shall this be so? Is there no remedy? Shall this monstrous evil go on in magnitude until, as it was in the worst days of Rome, official honors shall be in effect, put up at auctions and knocked down to the highest bidder? Will they continue, as heretofore, silent? Will public opinion remain quiescent, acknowledging itself debauched by this tainted atmosphere of political corruption? Will you, PRESS AND TRIBUNE, remain silent? Will men who respect themselves, still lack the moral courage to resist the taunts of political abortions who cry out against honest men who will not contribute funds to defile the purity of the elective franchise, and make the ballot box a living lie? Will men who claim to be moral men, good citizens, whose time is too valuable and whose dignity will not allow of their going about to solicit aid for some noble charity or relief for individual suffering, still consent to travel the streets, begging like mendicants, for pecuniary aid towards corrupting the noblest institutions that human genius ever originated or patriotism reared?

AN OLD LINE WHIG.

A Quack Doctor's Career—Sentence of Dr. W. H. M. Howard, of Bradford, Vt.

[From the Boston Traveller.]

This notorious individual, who has so long managed to elude justice, has at length met his reward, he having been sentenced to two years imprisonment in the State Prison, at Windsor, on Saturday last. Howard, it will be remembered, was convicted some months since at Chelsea of having procured abortion—the case was a most atrocious one. He appealed to the Superior Court, but it refused him a new trial. Howard's real name is Drew, and though he asserts himself an Englishman, is a native of Limerick, Ireland. On establishing himself at Thetford, Vt., a few years since, he gave out that he was a surgeon in the British army, and that he attended Queen Victoria, by special request; but, as some knowing ones discovered that he could not speak the Queen's English, and could neither read nor write, that story went for nothing.

He set up a dashing team, and soon got, by sheer brass, the name of a "great doctor." But an action for malpractice shook faith in him, and he had to pay $1,200 damages. While in full blast he was recognized at Bradford as a man who, under the name of Houghton, had by reason of false pretences swindled the Burlington Bank out of more than a thousand dollars—this he paid to escape punishment. He was next arrested for a rape on a patient, the wife of a student at Dartmouth College. The death of his victim let him out of this scrape for the time, but her dying declaration still hangs over him. While at Bradford he attended a man who died, and whose widow he married, taking possession of all her property which he got hold of; she died last summer, broken-hearted.

He was arrested on the charge for which he has been convicted. At his house near Bradford, there died, last summer, three young females, in the course of a few weeks. All had sought his aid to hide their shame. Suspicion was excited, and one of the bodies examined. He was committed, but released on bail. He dashed about in great style, and felt confident his luck would carry through, but the Supreme Court at Montpelier decided his fate, and for two years at least this fellow will be prevented from practicing on the credulity of the public. Howard left Montpelier for Windsor on Tuesday, strongly guarded.

Railroads Connected.

The Keokuk, Ft. Desmoines and Minnesota, and the Keokuk, Mt. Pleasant and Muscatine Railroads are united. The last rail was laid, and the last spike driven last evening. We have now a continuous track of iron rails from Fort Madison to Bentonsport, through this city, the whole distance being 35 miles. This union will prove a matter of convenience and profit in many ways.—Keokuk Gate City.

JOHN BROWN'S WAR.

Various Items Relating Thereto.

The Charlestown correspondent of the New York Tribune says:

It is amusing to hear the braggadocia and vaporing of some men in this State, when the subject of disunion is brought up in conversation. "Sir," said a prominent lawyer to me at my hotel last evening, "I would be glad to see the whole North sunk to the deepest depths of the bottomless pit! D—n her, we don't want a union with her, when we can get a foreign market for all our products and receive our necessary articles from thence in exchange! The South has borne with her insolence too long, and it is time, and now is the opportunity for a great United Southern Confederation to show the world the true meaning of the word Republic."

Anomalous as it may seem to you after what we know of the indecent haste shown at the Charlestown trials, the Virginians blame the officers of the law for too much leniency, and one of the municipal officers of Petersburg remarked to me that a lamentable mistake was made in not hanging the whole party immediately on the rendition of the verdict. Said he, "I would die content if I could see Greeley, Fred. Douglass, Emerson, Garrison, and Beecher strung up alongside old Brown on next Friday." Whether my bloodthirsty friend would run a judicial coup among all the prominent men in the North before his thirst for vengeance would be sated, I cannot say. Mind you, I give these opinions merely as the offspring of to day's excitement, and not as the sober sense of the leading men.

The Express (Petersburg) makes the fiendish suggestion that an auction be held to dispose of the lifeless body of poor Brown, the halter, scaffold, and all appurtenances complete, as they will stand an hour after the prisoner is hung. It remarks that so great an attraction as this, if proper guaranties for personal safety were given, a large number of northern Abolitionists would be drawn, and the amount realized for the precious relics of Saint Brown, as the brave old man is derisively called, would be very large.

HISTORY OF ONE OF BROWN'S ACCOMPLICES.

Cook, the accomplice of John Brown, gives in his confession the following history of one of his fellow-conspirators:

"Richard Realf, one of our original party, and our Secretary of State, came from Chatham to Cleveland, a few days before Captain Brown's arrival from the East. Soon after his arrival, he (Captain Brown) sent Realf to New York city, at which place he embarked for England for the purpose of carrying out the plans of Captain Brown. Realf was born and raised in England. He is a peasant's son, but his native talents brought him into the notice of some of the nobility, who took charge of him, and made arrangements to give him a finished education. He was taken into the family of Lady Noel Byron, where he made his home while pursuing his studies. Falling in love with a young lady of noble birth, who was a relative of Lord Byron's, he was censured by Lady Byron for his presumption. He became offended at her interference, and finally left Lady Byron to work his own way in the world. About this time the Chartist movement was made, which Realf joined, and the result was, he was obliged to seek safety by emigrating to America. He made his home some years in New York city. A part of the time he was there, he was engaged as Assistant Superintendent of the Five Points Mission. He is well known as an author and a poet. He gave up his situation as Assistant Superintendent, and went to Kansas in the summer or fall of 1856. I first met him in Kansas. No word was received from him, to my knowledge, after he left for England, to which place he went in his own capacity and that of our Secretary of State, to solicit funds for their support of our organization. He proposed to deliver a course of lectures in various parts of England, and the net proceeds of which were to be given to carry out Capt. Brown's plan. He is a man of rare talents, and a powerful and fluent speaker. He is about twenty-eight years of age. Mr. Kagi, I believe, got a letter from some one in England a few months ago, stating that Realf had sailed for this country, and that he had quite a sum of money with him, but further than that we have been unable to find any trace of him. Captain Brown and the rest of our company who knew him, think that he is dead."

Photographic Visiting Cards.

[Correspondence of the N. Y. Express.]

PARIS, Thursday, Nov 10, 1859.

As I took some pains to tell you, last week, and to demonstrate by actual comparison, the larger sizes of photographs, produced by American artists, far surpass in beauty and perfection of detail those of their European rivals; but I said nothing of the queer little pictures, invented in Paris, within a year past, and since issued in thousands and tens of thousands, in the form of visiting cards. Have you yet adopted, in New York, the Parisian fantasy of leaving your portrait at the doors of your acquaintances, instead of an unmeaning bit of pasteboard with your name engraved across the middle?—Stop? If memory serve me, the Knickerbockers long since deserted the ancient mode of having their cards printed, to employ the nimble fingers of peripatetic penmen, in manufacturing at the rate of a hundred per hour, in all the possible and impossible styles of chirography, severely simple or profusely ornate, those conventional representatives of individuality. Here, visiting cards are going out of fashion, almost as rapidly as crinoline, which, as you are doubtless aware, is collapsing, among the fair Parisiennes, at a rate fearful for couturieres and speculators in horse hair to contemplate. Our feminine leaders of the ton have given up their crinoline and their cards together, finding it infinitely more distingue to appear in robes of less extravagant rotandity, and to leave for their friends, a photograph in instead of a name.

The idea of these Lilliputian resemblances was first conceived, I believe, by Disderi, a famous and successful Parisian artist, who boasts of the Emperor Napoleon and the Empress Eugenie as standing at the head of his patrons. Surely, some of Disderi's pictures of their Imperial Majesties, must have reached the Republican shores of the New World, and those who have seen them will have observed that while the sun disdains to flatter even the victor of Solferino, he does full justice to the gentle and lovely features of her Gracious Majesty the Empress.

The first notion of the inventor of these tiny pictures, was to make a uniform collection of great people's miniatures, to be reproduced in thousands, and turned into commercial channels. These pictures, all at full length, are taken upon prepared pasteboard, about three inches long by two wide, and the durability of the impression is secured by the application of a varnish or other fluid, which preserves the portrait from being effaced by manipulation. As a matter of course, as soon as the likenesses of public characters were scattered over the town, and displayed in the shop windows, vanity did the rest.

These miniatures were a novelty, and their cost by the quantity, was trifling. This was the way they came to be adopted as visiting cards. Despairing of seeing themselves in the shop windows in company with the Emperor, Empress, Prince Napoleon, Princess Clotilde, Ex-King Jerome, King of Sardinia, Queen of England, Prince Albert, Duke of Malakoff, Duke of Magenta, and a hundred other celebrities, the throng of unknowns commenced carrying about with them a pocket full of photographs which just fitted their card cases,—thus suggesting the use which might be made of them. The innovation was well received by other unknowns, and was speedily imitated; until, at last, it is gradually being adopted by more distinguished people, and will doubtless end, as I have previously hinted, by supplanting altogether the old-fashioned card, except in rare instances, where the latter could not well be laid aside; as for example the ceremonious visits of official personages. In point of fact, it would be rather a stretch of fancy to suppose His Excellency Count Walewski driving about town, and leaving at the residence of foreign Ministers, a good-humored face and portly person, instead of the formal announcement of his call.

A Scheme for Plundering the Treasury.

[From the N. Y. Day Book.]

A most disreputable scheme, conspiracy in fact, against the United States Treasury has been in operation for the last eighteen months, having its headquarters in this city, with appropriate branches in Washington, New Orleans, Vera Cruz, and perhaps some other places. It started in company with British holders of Mexican bonds, possibly even that was the principal "interest" at first, but that impracticable course of the British Minister to Mexico embarrassed the parties, and it finally assumed the character of an independent "American enterprise." The object was to get four or five millions out of the Treasury—its pretence, like that of the late Dr. Gardner and others, was the destruction of mines, and other property in Mexico—its means a treaty with the Juarez government. A portion of the press of other cities has been subsidized, while several of the "leading" papers of this city have been the main reliance of the operators in this nefarious scheme for plundering the Treasury. After several months' efforts of agents at Washington, they succeeded in inducing the Administration to change its policy in regard to the factions of Mexico, and to recognize Juarez, a Mexican mulatto, three hundred miles from the capitol, without the archives or any document whatever connected with Mexican history or the international affairs of that country, as the President of Mexico! How Mr. Buchanan was led to do this, we cannot imagine; the act itself, on the surface of things, and disconnected with an ulterior design, which may, when it becomes known, perhaps justify it, was as absurd as it would be to recognize the Bourbons as the legitimate rulers of France.

Juarez, the mulatto in question, keeps up a sort of government at Vera Cruz, where he collects custom duties, and this supports him, and a military mob that he calls his army, after a fashion. There are a number of chiefs who profess to regard him as the president of the Republic, but each does as he pleases, and there are at this moment a dozen different and wholly independent governments in Mexico. To make a treaty with Juarez that shall recognize the pretended claims of certain Americans, has, as we have said, been the grand scheme of those speculators, and to accomplish this the newspapers in their interest have constantly and clamorously labored to deceive the public and the President himself in regard to Mexican affairs. They have represented the de facto government as certain to be demolished every day for the last twelve months—as guilty of every possible barbarity—as being the mere tool of the church party, and the latter universally hated and despised by the Mexican people and grown desperate at last, they now declare that the Mexican President has robbed a conducta of some two millions of money and actually ran away with it. But they will fail in their schemes, after all their efforts. Congress will appropriate no more means to pay Mexican claims, unless indeed, their should be a clear Republican or Seward Majority, which is not likely very soon, nor could a treaty with Juarez be of the slightest value, the very Mexican Constitution dug up by these fellows to accomplish their objects, and under which Juarez professes to carry on business, utterly forbids such a thing as a treaty, unless by a majority of the Mexican Congress.

FROM PIKE'S PEAK.

[Correspondence of the Missouri Democrat.]

AURARIA AND DENVER CITY, Jefferson Territory, November 17, 1859.

Since I wrote you last week there have been no mining news of unusual importance, further than that the few hundred of workers in each of the various sections and districts of the mountains, have been taking out satisfactory proceeds every day, varying in amount from $10 to $35 to each man, according to their several kinds of claims. Late reliable parties from the South Park, state that the miners in that section are making not generally less than an ounce a day. Some gentlemen have made $1,000 apiece on the Little Blue, in the past five weeks. A decomposed quartz lead has been found at the Tarryall diggings, which is very rich in coarse gold. Most of those who have built themselves cabins in the mountains will be able to work a good portion of the winter, excepting during the periodical spells of severe weather, which lasts from a few days to a week. Encouraging news still comes in from the Blue River region, which, and the South Park, will doubtless be the great theatre of successful mining operations next year. An immense vein of mineral ore, perhaps cinnabar, has been discovered of late, near Mountain City, fifty feet in thickness, which may become of incalculable value to the miners here, and suffice the importation of quicksilver. Some of the very best claims have been lying idle for the want of rain, and until contemplated ditches are completed. In Russell's gulch not any are making less than $12 per day yet, while the gulches are not much frozen. In the Nevada gulch claims are being sold, and before possession is given, during the few intervening days, as high as $100 a day have been offered for the privilege of working them; and refused, through courtesy towards the purchasers.

Prosse & Co.'s steam quartz mill is at present yielding between three and four hundred dollars a day. There will be plenty of business here next season for fifty or a hundred of them at least. The miners still continue in the best spirits, and little concerned whether others in the States believe them or not. They expect by labor and perseverance to make a fortune for each the year next ensuing. Some have taken out as high as one hundred and fifty dollars per day on their claims at Gregory's. In the Patch Diggings they are carrying on their tunneling projects. Here are found solid masses of quartz to the depth of twelve feet, extending several hundreds of acres, and paying at an average of fifty cents to the panful of dirt that is mixed with the quartz. Railroads are constructed from the top to the Nevada gulch, where sluices have been running, paying one hundred dollars each. Next summer this dirt will be worked on the top of the mountain, as a water ditch will be completed to pass directly through the diggings, where operations will be commenced as early as the middle of April or the first of May at farthest.

BUSINESS, ETC., IN AURARIA AND DENVER CITY.

Business among the merchants in Denver and Auraria is not very brisk at this dull season, nor will it resume its wonted activity before two or three months to come. We have here at this time some fine wholesale and retail stores, commission houses, hotels, saloons and private dwellings, that will more than compare with any of the large, stirring cities of the Missouri river country. We have, at this date, as sharp and sagacious merchants, as shrewd real estate speculators, as cunning and ambitious lawyers, as numerous doctors, as stiff and consequential gamblers, as fine looking young men, and as handsome and stylish women, almost, as can be scared up together in any single corporation this side of St. Louis or Chicago.

As soon as leisure permits, I purpose sending you definite statistics of the commerce, mining and agriculture of our country. In the meantime I would state, that we have at present in our twin city some twenty-five general grocery, liquor and provision stores, fifteen of which are general stores, wholesale and retail, containing clothing outfits, boots, and shoes, hardware, and some of the smaller miscellaneous articles usually kept in country stores. Also some 5 or 6 exclusively clothing stores, 2 drug stores, 5 good bakeries, 10 restaurants, 7 hotels, 6 private boarding houses, 15 regular saloons, 6 saloons with billiard tables, 4 ten pin alleys, 10 doctor's offices, 15 lawyer's offices, 8 real estate offices, 6 engineers and surveyors' offices, 2 small livery stables, 1 theatre, 1 ditto erecting, 1 minstrel opera house, 1 good union school for boys and girls—in which the young are instructed in the elementary branches, and the more advanced prepared for colleges and counting rooms. Two or three churches are talked of.

THE GREAT MEDICINE SPRINGS.

The great "Medicine Springs" are a happy feature in favor of the new city of Colorado. They lie a quarter of a mile northwest of the town. You doubtless have often heard and read descriptions of these natural fountains in the writings of Ruxton, Humboldt and others. They are known occasionally by the name of "The Soda Springs," "The Red Back Springs," and "Pike's Peak Springs," being acknowledged by all scientific judges to far excel any of the Springs in the South or East, and second only to one of the European mineral springs. They are very picturesque and beautiful indeed. So is the whole appearance of the surrounding plains and mountain ridges. The water is greatly sought after and highly appreciated, and has been among New Mexicans and mountaineers for scores of years past. The water is decidedly the pleasantest and most invigorating draught which I ever tasted at any springs. For invalids off the plains it is better than all the magic pills in the dispensatories of all "the schools."

You can roll down an amount of glasses innumerable, and feel after as if you could reach the stars. Flour wet with this water rises to an incredible altitude in the poorest oven. The Indians, for centuries, regarded these springs with awe, believing these "medicine springs" to be the abode of a spirit who brethes through their transparent waters, and by his exhalations causes the [illegible]; attributing to this water god the ordaining of the success or failure of their war expeditions, and believing this "valley of salt" absolutely indispensable as preliminary to the "war-path"—beads and wampum, red cloth and skins being thickly deposited all about. The chiefs used to drink at the heads of the fountains—the inferior order out of the streams farther out, believing the Great Spirit placed the cool waters at the fountains, so that the "big men" might imbibe it pure, and cool and strong.

Immediately overhead, Pike's Peak, at an elevation of twelve thousand and odd feet above the level of the sea, tower high into the clouds, while around the fountains, like a gigantic amphitheatre, ridge after ridge, clothed with the greenest pine and cedar, rises and meets the stupendous mass of mountains, so appropriately called "Rocky," which stretch far away northward and southward, their gigantic peaks, sometimes invisible among the array of clouds which hover over and hide their rugged brows. The property could not be purchased for a hundred thousand dollars, of these gentlemen, today. There will be a hotel put up here, perhaps, next year, costing ten to twenty thousand dollars, with all the latest improvements and inducements to have it become the great Saratoga of the West, by the time a railroad is completed to this important region. Here the young potiphars of the east can reinvigorate their wasted corporosities, climb the "rugged rocks, where leaps the live thunder," catch the mountain trout in these mountain lakes, seek the stricken deer, and stab the grizzly bear, dig "goold," or chat and flirt among "the fierce and bloody Injuns." Now I am neither interested a cent, nor own a single rod, in that rising section, but I must declare it is the prettiest and grandest neighborhood I ever saw in this whole country, or in any part of the Union, and I've traveled about everywhere, from the "oyster placers" of the East to the "yellow banks of Pike's Peak," (as the Eastern journalists would say.)

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS OF INTEREST, PERSONAL, &C.

L. J. Winchester, Esq., returned yesterday on a visit to his parents at Westport, Mo. He is one of our most popular and prominent citizens, and the highest up in the order of Free Masons in the Territory. He could have the highest office here if he would run for it. Old gentleman McCarty, of Westport and Kansas City, also went back this week after his family. He owns a large and very profitable brick yard here.

A Methodist quarterly meeting came off here a week ago under the charge of Preachers Adriance and Fisher. Religious services here twice each Sabbath, well attended—prayer meetings every Thursday night; a Union Sabbath school for both cities has been organized. I have just counted twenty-four graves in our cemetery. The grave diggers charge ten dollars. The first hog ever butchered on Cherry Creek received the mortal stab on Saturday last. Spare ribs were quite a treat for a change. Cats and dogs are scarce and in demand here. One man is getting rich here by selling pups at $25 each, "on shares." Hooped skirts were greatly sought after by the lady population here, and there being none of the article imported by our merchants yet, necessity under the circumstances has invented a most popular patent right—hooped skirts constructed of buck elk raw hide. Fashion's vacuum is for the present supplied. The rings of the new style range some of them equal to Saturn's outer ring.

The gas company here soon expect to have gas introduced in both cities.

Small fortunes are being made here in buying real estate and selling the same soon again, at from twenty-five to one hundred per cent. advance. Mr. Goldberg, formerly of your city, sold his lot on Ferry street, Auraria, on which there was a log house, used by him as an auction store, for $700, for which he a very few weeks since paid but $500. Lots 66 by 132 on business streets in Auraria and Denver range from five hundred to fifteen hundred dollars. The very large new frame building erecting in Auraria, for store saloon and theatre purposes, by Mr. Page, late of Boston, was blown down a few days ago.

Hens would pay well to take out here, as eggs are commanding an incredible price for use in egg-nogg and tom-and-jerry!

A man who had five or six good opera glasses to rent here this winter might realize a handsome fortune thereby, without doing anything else.

The price of board here ranges from $7 to $14 per week.

Bridges are preparing at different points between the two cities, lest Cherry Creek should become sloppy during the winter. Also over the Platte.

Feather beds, sofas, and rocking chairs are invisible here, and would fetch any price, especially among parties who contemplate marrying here this winter.

The marble and grindstone quarries here are receiving considerable attention.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—We regret very much to record a serious and fatal accident which occurred yesterday near the depot of the Rockford and Kenosha Railroad. Several men were engaged in pulling down some grout houses, one of which had been retained as an office for the company, while the two others were to be removed altogether. The roof of one had been taken away, which, in a grout house, removes the main stay of the building, when some of the men commenced digging at a wall, upon which the whole mass tumbled down together, killing one man, named Emmett Purdy, instantly, and breaking the right arm, and leg in two places near the thigh, of James Alberis, formerly a constable of this town.—Rockford News.

Knox College Burned.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

KNOX COLLEGE, Nov. 30, 1859.

At about half-past two o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was raised and our next building was discovered to be in flames and beyond hope of rescue. As I write the ruins are still smoking. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary—no insurance. The train is just going and there is no time for particulars. I will send the account of the fire and all that can be ascertained, to-morrow.

Yours in haste, A STUDENT.

BLOODY AND BRUTAL PLOT.

John Brown to be Rescued—The Secret of Prof. Lowe's Delay—The Charlestown Officers and Jail to be Carried off.

By mere accident we have obtained possession of the following bloody and brutal plot, conceived by a bloody and brutal Black Republican of this state.

Professor Lowe, who is now engaged in inflating his monster balloon, with which he intends shortly to sail for Europe, has been employed to remain in New York with his balloon until some dark night, when there shall be a strong north wind, when he is to ascend in his balloon with a dozen packs of fire crackers, and steer his aerial ship directly for Charlestown, Virginia. When near that city he is to set fire to a pack of crackers and throw it overboard, leaving them to explode on their descent to the ground, and then to proceed in the same manner, with the remaining eleven packs, by which time, it is presumed, the people of Harper's Ferry will all be frightened to death. The balloonist is then to descend directly over the jail, make fast to it, and, ascending again, take up the jail, with old Brown in it, and steer directly for England, where he will deliver old Brown to the bloody and brutal abolitionists in that country, who it is expected, will lionize the old sinner by exhibiting him at Exeter Hall, thus robbing a Virginia gallows of its victim, and Jefferson county of its jail.

N. B.—It is expected that the audacity of the bloody and brutal rebels will not stop even here. Some of the ungodly gang suggest the expediency of taking up Governor Wise, the militia the judge, jury, and witnesses on Old Brown's trial, to be used, as occasion may require, for gas or ballast.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

Politics in Jersey.

A large gathering of the friends of the Hon. William L. Dayton was held in this city on Wednesday last, to consult on the best means of advancing his claims to a nomination for the Presidency. The meeting was strictly a private one, and was composed principally of prominent Jerseymen from all sections of the State. The conclusion arrived at was that New Jersey should and would do her utmost, in Convention, to secure his nomination. But while, up to this period of time, the indications have been decided that with the right man, come from where he may, we can succeed next year, there are foolish men in this community who are seeking, with superserviceable zeal, to break away from that People's party organization under which our State has been twice carried against the Democracy, and set up a purely Republican party. Such folly cannot be too severely reprobated. New York may win battle after battle under the Republican banner, and we glory in seeing her do so; but in Pennsylvania and New Jersey the present compact organization of the People's party in one, and the Opposition in the other must be preserved unbroken. Whoever seeks to break it up by side organizations of any kind, no matter under what name, is an enemy in disguise. He is sowing tares that will spoil great fields now whitening for the harvest.

PERSONAL.

In a letter just received from Rev. Theodore Parker, he states that he has taken rooms in Rome for six months. In allusion to the fact that he shall be compelled to pay for his lodgings at all events, he jocosely says that the pecuniary considerations are in favor of his living six months at least. He is in good spirits, and says his health is better than when he left Switzerland. He has made up his mind to give up preaching, by the advice of his medical attendants.—Boston Bee.

—Elias Howe, Jr., the lucky fellow who gets $200,000 a year on royalty on sewing machines, is one of the oddities of Broadway. He is the personage whom no visitor to our city can fail to see, dressed in a Quaker-cut coat, white cravat, and almost extinguished under a gigantic hat, which might have been the companion of the supernatural helmet in the "Castle of Otranto." Beneath this flows a heavy stream of rich brown hair reaching to the shoulder blades, and inviting people behind to give it pull—an invitation which, I have, with difficulty, resisted on many occasion. Mr. Howe was the inventor of the sewing machine, though he is not now engaged in its manufacture. His present income is derived from five dollar commissions, which other persons pay for the use of his lock-stitch principle. His patent runs out in two years; and, strange to say, the manufacturers are anxious to have it extended.—N. Y. Correspondence of the Charleston Mercury.

HOW SHALL WE KNOW A NOBLEMAN?—We lately took occasion to praise the considerate kindness of Mr. Berkeley, the famous English hunter, in telling the Missourians how to distinguish an Englishman of noble birth from a plebian counterfeit. We see by the following item how important it is that this kind of knowledge should be disseminated as rapidly as possible:

"The valet of Hon. Grantley Berkeley, the no ere mighty hunter, passed through Pittsburg (Pa.) last week on his way eastward, and being a comely man, gave himself out for his master. Several Pittsburgers politely called upon him, and paid profound deference to his remarks."

FULL LENGTH

STEEL ENGRAVINGS

—OF—

WASHINGTON AND EVERETT!

Including a View of Mt. Vernon

In the Engraving of Washington. These splendid engravings are from the original paintings by Hicks, and are engraved on steel in the highest style of Art. They are each 25x35 inches, each containing SIX SQUARE FEET. So many coarse, miserable pictures have been palmed upon the public as works of art—and especially in cheap, black and muddy engravings,—that it is difficult to convince persons of taste that they are safe in ordering what they have not first seen. We have paid the first artists their own prices amounting to MANY THOUSAND DOLLARS, to produce Engravings REALLY BEAUTIFUL, as well as the best portraits, and that shall be Splendid Ornaments to any Parlor. Opinions that can be relied on:

☞ The Editor of the New York Observer says:—"These engravings are genuine works of art—the likenesses are admirable. The portrait of Mr. Everett will take precedence of all others."

☞ They New York Christian Advocate says:—"They are among the finest engravings we have ever seen, and the PUBLISHERS ARE FULLY RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL THEY PROMISE."

TERMS, ALMOST GRATIS.

We will send, Post Paid, securely packed in rollers—EITHER ENGRAVING and a $3 Magazine, 1 year, for $3. BOTH ENGRAVINGS, and a $3 Magazine, 1 year, for $4.

☞ Agents who remit $30 at one time, will have an extra copy of each engraving. The magazines are—HARPER'S, THE KNICKERBOCKER, GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK, THE ATLANTIC, BLACKWOOD.

☞ By special arrangement, the entire year's subscription to the Magazines is paid over by us to their publishers, and subscribers receive their supply for the year direct from their respective publication offices. The cost of the engraving is paid only by the difference between the lowest wholesale, and the regular price of the Magazines.

☞ Engravings sent at once, and subscriptions to periodicals commence with current issue, unless otherwise ordered. Money at our risk if proof is retained of having been mailed. First impressions are best, therefore send early. Address, O. H. BAILEY & CO., (At Wm. Hall & Son's Music Store,) 543 Broadway, New York.

☞ S. P. OLDERSHAW, 38 Lasalle Street, receives Subscriptions and delivers Engravings to subscribers in Chicago. Specimens can be seen at his store.

SANFORD'S LIVER INVIGORATOR.

Never Debilitates.

It is compounded entirely from Gums, and has become an established fact, a Standard Medicine, known and approved by all that have used it, and is now resorted to with confidence in all diseases for which it is recommended.

It has cured thousands within the last two years who had given up all hopes of relief, as the numerous unsolicited certificates in my possession show.

The dose must be adapted to the temperament of the individual taking it, and used in such quantities as to act gently on the Bowels.

Let the dictates of your judgment guide you in the use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR, and it will cure Liver Complaints, Bilious Attacks, Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Summer Complaints, Dysentery, Dropsy, Sour Stomach, Habitual Costiveness, Cholic, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Flatulence, Jaundice, Female Weaknesses, and may be used successfully as an Ordinary Family Medicine. It will cure SICK HEADACHE, (as thousands can testify,) in twenty minutes, if two or three Teaspoonfuls are taken at commencement of attack.

All who are using it are giving testimony in its favor.

☞ Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

Price One Dollar per Bottle.

—ALSO—

Sanford's Family Cathartic Pills,

COMPOUNDED FROM

PURE VEGETABLE EXTRACTS, and put up in GLASS CASES, AIR TIGHT, AND WILL KEEP IN ANY CLIMATE.

The Family Cathartic PILL is a gentle but active Cathartic which the proprietor has used in his practice more than twenty years.

The constantly increasing demand from those who have long used the PILLS and the satisfaction which all express in regard to their use, has induced me to place them within the reach of all.

The Profession well know that different Cathartics act on different portions of the bowels.

The Family Cathartic Pill has, with due reference to this well established fact, been compounded from a variety of the purest Vegetable Extracts, which act alike on every part of the alimentary canal, and are good and safe in all cases where a Cathartic is needed, such as Derangements of the Stomach, Sleepiness, Pains in the Back and Loins, Costiveness, Pain and Soreness over the whole body, from sudden cold, which frequently, if neglected, end in a long course of Fever, Loss of Appetite, a Creeping Sensation of Cold over the body, Restlessness, Headache, or weight in the Head, all Inflammatory Diseases, Worms in Children or Adults, Rheumatism, a great Purifier of the Blood, and many diseases to which flesh is heir, too numerous to mention in this advertisement. Dose, 1 to 3.

Price Three Dimes.

The Liver Invigorator and Family Cathartic Pills are retailed by Druggists generally, and sold wholesale by the Trade in all the large towns.

Special Notices.

☞ Nature is the Greatest Physician. This is now admitted by the medical profession as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim therefore is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of DR. J. HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which operate to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, are prompt and decisive. The patient who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the Bitters soon finds as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. Let all from whose cheek the bloom has departed give Dr. J. Hostetter's Celebrated Bitters a trial.
Sold by Druggists and dealers generally everywhere.

☞ Taxes! Taxes!! Taxes!!—The subscriber, collector for the West town of Chicago, would hereby notify the tax-payers of said town, that he is now in possession of the books and ready to receive their taxes at the office of S. M. Avery & Co., corner West Water and Canal streets. Immediate attention is requested.
no24-1w T. MORRIS, Collector West Chicago.

☞ The Contrast.—While congratulating those who have had the good fortune to be BORN BEAUTIFUL, I would recommend those whose hair is of an odious tint by nature, or grizzled by sickness, or time, that by using CRISTADORO'S Excelsior Hair Dye, they may, so far as the hair is concerned, in FIVE MINUTES be MADE BEAUTIFUL. The Dye has been analyzed and certified to be pure and harmless, by Dr. Chilton, the most distinguished Chemist in the United States. Sold everywhere, and applied by all Hair Dressers. CHRISTODORO, 6 Astor House, New York. no16-1m ☞ Moffat's Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters, by increasing the quantity of life and vigor in every part of the system, enable nature to make incredible efforts for the expulsion of disease before organic distruction begins. It is thus that in a very short space of time they are colds, coughs, rheumatism, flatulence, pains in the stomach, cholic, and nervous disorders in all their forms. But their superior excellence is in affections of the stomach, female complaints, and the sufferings of enfeebled youth. For sale by Dr. W. B. MOFFAT, Proprietor, 335 Broadway, New York, and by all druggists.

☞ Those who are Curious to witness the wonderful perfection to which A. Oheswaldt (late manager at Batchelor's, N. Y.) has brought the manufacture of Wigs and Toupees, are invited to visit his Wig and Hair Dying Rooms, at No. 100 Lake street, and examine these curious productions of art. No scrutiny can detect the artificial from the natural when adjusted to the head. de8-ly

The Fruit Lands of the West.

Among the strongest inducements that determine the location of Immigrants when seeking homes in a new country are considerations based on the capacity of the country for producing fruit.

Until within a few years nearly all the new lands of the West were considered well adapted to this purpose. Far to the North in Wisconsin nurseries and orchards prospered. The accounts of the early settlers were of the most flattering character. It seemed that they only had to plant a tree, no matter how carelessly or how much neglected, in due course of time it was almost sure to bear fruit. It cannot be denied that the glowing accounts given by them have contributed greatly to win many a choice spirit away from the comforts of Eastern refinement and studded our vast savannahs with the homes of the most cultivated and moral people that ever entered upon a new life in a wilderness country. Stories of big pumpkins, large potatoes, great grain crops, and fat hogs, cattle, and horses combined, could not, without the other and still stronger inducement, have drawn the most desirable portion of our settlers to our borders. Nor were these mere idle tales. That they were the plain recital of facts is freely attested by living witnesses. Here and there too we find the orchards themselves standing, having attained mature age, which bear continuously as the best orchards elsewhere do.

The same causes which exerted a controlling influence in early times over emigration, cannot be accounted of any less moment now—its intelligence advances the desire for the better things of the farm and garden increases. Who of us in seeking a location in which we proposed to spend our days, and rear our family, would be willing to take up with one in which we could not raise the standard fruits of the country.

These reason from partial premises who conclude that because a succession of untoward seasons proved generally disastrous to the first orchards then standing we are thenceforth to grow no fruit. Numerous choice varieties previously considered hardy, were, in some localities, utterly cut off; but escaped harm in others. A few only generally passed unharmed. Trees of almost any age which were not killed, were injured—their vitality impaired and their future health rendered less certain. This was also the case generally in the regions heretofore most devoted to fruit in the East as well as the West, and it may be years before we shall see that branch of agriculture flourishing as before. It is no easy thing to get perfectly sound stock from the nursery. Much that may be all right is destroyed by the bad mode of setting out, so that it never reaches the period of fruiting.—Many a well-directed effort may fail, but success is seen to be the ultimate result.

But this is only a question of time—Western New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio have all passed through their disastrous periods of horticultural experience, and have since become fine fruit sections. There is nothing peculiar in our case as to leave reasonable grounds for doubt that the business will revive when we come to ascertain fully the favorable and unfavorable conditions for prosecuting the business, and the varieties adapted to the different localities.

WHEN MAY FRUITS BE GROWN?

The small fruits may be grown anywhere with the finest success—some of the tender varieties require some winter protection, but more depends upon the knowledge and skill of the cultivator than on the plant cultivated; for we see some amateurs quite astonish us with their results. In the vicinity of larger towns attention is already directed to their culture. A man can make more clear money off a few acres of small fruits properly managed than from a quarter section farm, tended in the usual slovenly manner—that a few years will develop this branch of horticulture to a most prosperous and largely paying business there does not seem any doubt. The small fruits never have failed, and we cannot have any greater vicissitudes of climate than we have already passed through. They may be propagated rapidly, so that from a small beginning we may have an extended plantation in a few years. The crop of the third year will pay all expenses with a largely increased stock for future culture.

The bluffs along our streams seem especially favorable to the growth of the apple and other standard fruits. At various points near the Mississippi, the Rock River, the Fox and the Illinois, &c., apple orchards bear well; as also at locations on the open prairie. Samuel Edwards, of Lamoile, informed me that his orchard produced 250 bu this year; this was on a high prairie. At a point on the Illinois below Peoria, good winter apples have sold by the wagon load this fall, at twenty-five cents per bushel in the orchard.

Missouri is often spoken of and highly lauded. No doubt some valuable fruit lands are found in that State—but let us not be deceived. Are there not extensive land companies organized for the purpose of making a speculation out of their lands for fruit purposes. The query naturally arises as to "what extent these tales may be for their special benefit?" Missouri is too far away from the great fruit markets to make it desirable. The fruit grower should avail himself, if possible, of the early market prices, which range from one hundred to several hundred per cent. higher than the later rates, until we come to winter keeping fruits.

Missouri is not the country for this. Again, Missouri is a Slave State, and it is folly to talk about fruit culture in a Slave State. The people are too indolent or unappreciative to care for the rare and beautiful of horticulture, except on the fine large plantations. It may be claimed that a free man can go there and prosecute the business with the spirit and enterprise of a free man and succeed. Admit it, for the argument's sake, how long will he have to struggle against public opinion? How long contend for the rights of a free man? How long immerse his family in a community of slave cursed citizens and suffer under the ban against free speech and free action? How long will that family, as the children grow up, stand destitute of the advantages of common school education, and find as they come to take a stand upon the stage of action that they are unprepared for the duties before them? Considerations of a sanitary character also present themselves as obstacles in the way of the intelligent immigrant settling in Missouri.

Some parts of Michigan and Indiana also grow fruits advantageously. In those states, as well as in the favored localities along the bluffs of rivers and streams in our own, the fruit lands are held very high, so high that none but the wealthy can invest in them to much extent. Turning to the southern portion of our own state we find a large section admirably adapted to this business—emigration and capitalists have not yet taken up the chance spots. The land is as cheap as in Michigan. The markets are better—both St. Louis and Chicago being at hand. The Illinois Central Railroad forms a cheap and rapid communication with the latter place, and, crossing as it does through a vast extent of country where less attention is paid to the fruit than to the growing of grain, it furnishes an extensive market in the rural districts. Being frequently crossed by other lines which connect with all the flourishing inland towns of the west; it is safe to say there there is no limit to the market, that the fruit culturist may depend upon for his early fruits during years to come. Nor will orchards be so rapidly planted as to render the prospect at all uncertain for late fruits. The country is also well adapted to grains. It must be evident therefore that the southern portion of our own state presents unequalled inducements to the intelligent emigrant, from whatever section he may come. THURSTON.

MISCELLANEOUS.

— During the present year nearly a dozen churches of different denominations have been destroyed by fire within the limits of the State of Massachusetts. Some of these it is known were set on fire by incendiaries. The loss of so many buildings of the same character in one locality in so short a time is unparalleled.

— The Clarksville (Tenn.) Chronicle says that ten negroes were sold in that place a few days since for $100. The low price is accounted for on the ground that they are still fugitives in a free State.

GOLD IN INDIANA.—The Brown County Republican says that it has information of gold diggings in that county which pay $2.50 to $5 per day. Two or three returned Californians have been working them, and are making preparations to enlarge their operations next spring. The diggings are near Spearsville. A great extent of territory in that region shows signs of gold, but not in sufficient quantities as yet to excite much interest.

DISAPPEARANCE OF A LAKE.—The Plumas (California) Argus learns that Honey Lake has literally dried up. Susan River, a respectable stream, and as full as usual at this season of the year, fails now to reach the basin of the lake, sinking into the earth far above it. Immense quantities of fish have been destroyed by the event, and now lie decaying on the deserted bed. It is remarkable that a lake, twenty miles wide and forty miles long, should disappear so suddenly.

A RIGHTEOUS PUNISHMENT.—Thomas G. Rutherford, the late Superintendent of the Pittsburg House of Refuge, who was convicted of perpetrating most infamous crimes with his female inmates, while in office, has been fined $50, and ordered to be imprisoned one year in the county jail.

FANCIES REVIVING.—A New York letter of a recent date affirms that Wall street is experiencing a revival—not of religion, unfortunately,—but of the mining business. Copper stocks and operations are again coming to be favorites. A party of capitalists have just bought out a great copper mine in Virginia for $180,000. Two gentlemen owning a gold-bearing tract of nearly a mile square, in Georgia, are now visiting New York for the purpose of selling out.

— An American naval officer gives it as his opinion that there are ships engaged in the slave trade whose captains can stow three hundred blacks on board, and still show a man-of-war officer "all round the deck," produce apparently irreproachable papers, and so thoroughly convince the visitor of the lawfulness of his movements as to receive—generally over a bottle of champagne—an apology for having his privacy intruded on.

ABOLITION OF GRAND JURIES.—Vermont is following in the wake of Michigan toward the final abolition of grand juries, and the substitution of indictment upon information in lieu thereof. A bill has just been introduced into the Legislature of the State for that purpose, and has every prospect of success in becoming a law. Already partial steps toward the abolition of the grand jury have been taken in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Louisiana, and Michigan.

FORTHCOMING DEVELOPMENTS.—Just previous to going to press, says the Washington (Fayette County) Register, we received information from one who ought to be posted, that startling facts would most likely be divulged in reference to the counterfeiters recently arrested in Illinois. It is intimated as being positive that a certain person is going to make disclosures which will implicate a number of persons living in Fayette county who have hitherto been considered good and substantial citizens. We have been promised the full particulars as soon as they may be disclosed. If things turn out as they are represented, it will make the good people of Fayette, Highland, Ross, and Clinton counties shudder.

— An officer in the English army, who was with his regiment in India during the whole period of the late revolt, returned to his home during the present month, and the morning of his arrival the postman brought him a letter which was mailed in May, 1857, which had been following him for two years and a half, and which had only that morning reached him in the same place where it was mailed, and in the presence of the person who wrote it.

— There was a novel sale of dead letters at auction in Washington, on Tuesday night, comprising five hundred lots of articles of various kinds, accumulated at the Dead Letter Office within the last twelve years, including such things as ear-rings, breastpins, finger-rings, studs, gold and silver watches, California gold, diamond pins, spectacles, purses, pocket-books, bead-work, embroidery, lace collars, handkerchiefs, cuffs, surgical instruments, children's clothing, hats, boots, and shoes.

— Mr. H. W. Derry, brother to the senior member of the publishing firm of Derby & Jackson, has recently bought the Dusseldorf collection of paintings of Mr. Boker, for $100,000, the original cost being $180,000. Mr. Derby intends to build a new gallery for his paintings, which will be exhibited to the public as heretofore. He has also changed his residence from Cincinnati to New York.

— The proprietor of the Pennsylvania Inquirer, Mr. Harding, has been forced into assignment. It is understood to be the fruit of outside operations, paper-mills and passenger railways, neither of which have turned up what they were expected to be. The Inquirer is understood to be a very profitable concern, as well as the immense Bible factory, which Mr. Harding has carried on for many years, whose products have figured so conspicuously in the trade-sale catalogues. But their profits were unable to supply the draw of heavy outside operations.

— The New York board of councilmen, finding Lowe, the balloonist, to be an unmitigated humbug, have resolved to withdraw from him in twelve days the privilege of inflating his balloon in Crystal Palace Square for his "great trans-Atlantic voyage." Lowe has packed up his balloon, and postponed his journey till spring, or a convenient season.

MONETARY.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1, 1859.

The money market continues easy, and pork and produce dealers have no difficulty whatever in procuring all the funds necessary, at the usual rates. Eastern Exchange is rather easier—sales being made on the street at 1¼@1⅜ per cent. prem. Bank rates, however, are still ½ per cent prem.

MORE BANKS.—The St. Louis Democrat of yesterday says:

Illinois banks are indeed multiplying more rapidly than rattlesnakes—the only difference being that the latter come forth in the Spring, while the banks spring into being all the year round. Their "promises to pay" reach St. Louis in large packages daily, not from Illinois farmers, merchants or traders, but directly from their sharp getters up, to sell, like so much hay or whisky, for other and better money. Would it not be well for daily receipts of this money to be published, with the receipts of other country produce—say 40 bags bran, 100 bags oats, and half a cord of Illinois bank bills.

COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY EVENING, Dec. 1, 1859.

The receipts and shipments during the past twenty-four hours were as follows:

[illegible]

The receipts of live hogs to-day were large, notwithstanding which the market was buoyant, and advanced 5@10c—heavy hogs selling at $4.62½@4.80 gross. Dressed hogs were also in better supply, and the market was fully 10c higher—fair to heavy selling at a range of 5.50@5.75. The competition between packers and shippers in the yards was active, and the former secured some of the choicest lots.

In provisions there is but little to report. There are buyers of mess pork at $14.50@14.75, but packers have their views above those figures. Cut Meats are scarce, and in fair request. A lot of 1,200 bulk sides were contracted for to-day at 7c, loose, to be delivered in 15 days, and 200 Green Hams were sold at 4½c. Lard is rather easier; but we hear of but little doing. Eastern buyers seem to have no confidence whatever in the present prices of Provisions, and they are holding off for a decline—which they expect soon. Meantime western operators are buying freely in Cincinnati and Louisville, with apparent confidence in the high prices.

Flour was dull and drooping, and sales were quite limited at $4.40@4.70 for fair to choice Spring extras, and $4.70 for Red Winter. Wheat opened very firm, and about 10,000 bu. changed hands at 89c for No. 1 Spring, and 90c @91c for No. 2 Spring—closing, however, quiet at 90c. Winter Wheat is very scarce and in demand, with limited sales of No. 2 Red at 96c in store, and 78@81c for Rejected. Corn was dull and declined 2c—with about 15,000 bu sold, at 37½@40c for New No. 1 in store; 33c for new Rejected in store; and 35c for Ear Corn on track. Oats firm and in good demand, with sales at 31@31½c for No. 1 store, and 34½c in bags. Rye scarce and in good request by distillers at 67@70c for No. 1 in bags on track, and 62c for No. 2c in store. Barley firm—with sales at 55c for No. 1 in store, and 55c on track. Seeds quiet—with sales of fair Timothy at $1.06. Highwines dull and nominal at 21@21½c. Alcohol, 44c.

ANOMALY IN THE FLOUR TRADE.—The Rochester Union says that a steamer which brings flour from the Canadian ports to Rochester, takes back American flour to the same ports. The flour imported is a choice article, made from white Canadian wheat for the Eastern market, and goes by rail to fill orders from the Massachusetts towns. The flour exported is an inferior article, made from Western Spring Wheat, and is destined for the Montreal market, where it is sold to the Lower Canadian French, who pay as much for middlings as for double extra flour. Although there is direct water communication with Montreal, the Grand Trunk Railway carries so cheap that the flour is taken across the lake and dispatched by rail.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29.—The St. Louis Republican of yesterday says:

A considerable advance in freights to-day checked the animation which was growing up in market yesterday from a contrary cause, and checked the tendency to advance which then prevailed. Grain, however, was firm generally, notwithstanding that backset, but there was a slower and much more inactive market. For wheat the market was kept up by light receipts, and the same was the case with corn and oats. Each article held on steadily to the quotations current on yesterday. Country flour, likewise, was about the same, and sales something larger than usual, but in city demand was effectually stopped, the advance in freight being large enough to unsettle the market. Sugar acquired additional firmness, and sales were made at an advance. Holders asked at the close still higher rates—say, 8@8½c for fair to prime.

PITTSBURGH—Nov. 30.—FLOUR—The demand from the Alleghany and up river country was quite brisk, yesterday, and the sales aggregated nearly 3,000 brls, all from store, at $5@5.10 for Super, $5.65@5.40 for Extra, $5.65@5.75 for Extra Family, $6 for choice do and $6.25 for fancy brands; the prevailing rates for the three grades were $5, $5.37 and $5.75. GRAIN—Market steady; sales on wharf of 600 bu Corn in sks at 55c; at depot 300 bu in bulk at 55c; 225 do at 58c; and 300 do from store at 60c. Wheat, 400 bu inferior White at depot at $1.28. Oats, 400 bu from store at 45@47c.

DETROIT—Nov. 30.—The Tribune of yesterday evening says:

The advance of 12½c, which we have already noted only on the choicest brands of flour, has now become pretty general on extras; the revised rates are $5.12½ for white and $4.87½ for red. As shipments are very nearly at an end, buyers are less numerous, but there are only light stocks on hand. The sales of wheat are mostly small lots for milling at previous rates. A sale was made on 'Change, however, of 5,000 bu No. 1 red winter delivered at the opening in the spring at $1.15. This indicates faith in the continuance of the present good prices for breadstuffs. Coarse grains are without material change.

ADVANCE IN WHEAT IN LOUISVILLE.—The Louisville Journal of the 30th says:

The millers last evening put up the price of wheat to $1.10 and $1.20 for prime red and white. The total advance during the week is 10c. The receipts are light.

ALBANY BARLEY MARKET, Nov. 29.—Barley lower and in moderate request. The receipts are not large. Sales 1,400 bu Madison county two-rowed at 71c; 1,700 bu Orleans county four-rowed at 71c; 3,000 bu Canada East at 75c; and 3,800 bu Lake Shore at 78c.

BOSTON—Nov. 29.—Receipts, 9,992 brls flour; 7,266 bu corn; 23,086 bu oats. Yellow Corn firm at $1.04.

TOLEDO, Nov. 30.—The Blade reports as follows:

Receipts, 1,367 bbls flour; 2,226 bus wheat; 10,500 bus corn; 1,760 bus barley; 187 bus oats. Shipped by C. & T. R. R., Nov. 29, flour, 350 bbls; wheat, 1,720 bus; stock, 26 cars; hams, 202 tc. Flour—sales 50 bbls extra at $5; 50 bbls do same; 100 bbls do same. Wheat—sales 300 bbls M S red at 1.12½; 300 bus at same. Of white, 200 bus at 1.23; 150 bus at 1.25; 123 bus at 1.25. Corn we quote at 56c for prime. Sales 12,800 bus on p. t.; 2,000 bus in ear at 60c, weight not given; 1,500 bus on p. t. Barley—sales 200 bus at 65c. Rye—sales 350 bus del. on C. & T. cars at 75c. Seeds—clover new 4.00@4.25; timothy 1.75@2.00; flax 1.12½.

MONTREAL MARKETS, Nov. 29.—Flour in good speculative demand; buyers of No. 1 at $5.15 sellers at $5.20@5.25. No. 2 sales at $4.90@5; fancy at $5.40, and extra at $6.25@6.30. Nothing to report in grain. Ashes quiet at $5.40 for pearls, $5.55 pots.

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—There is no very marked change in the Flour market, which if anything is firmer than before at full rates. We quote small sales of superfine at $4.50@4.65; fancy at $4.85@5.15; extra $5.80@5.65; double extra, $5.75@6. The Wheat market was very active, and the full rates of yesterday were well sustained. There was an unusual competition between buyers, and the receipts of the day, which amounted to about 1,000 bushels moved off freely. The prime and extra prime lots brought $1.27@1.32 ⅌ bu.; and good from $1.20 @1.25; common $1.18@1.20. The average price for shipping wheat was not less than $1.25. Spring Wheat 77c@$1.00 for common; and $1@1.25 for extra. Barley nominal at 60c. Rye in active request at 75@80c. Oats 37@38c.

The Hog and Provision Trade.

[From the Louisville Journal Nov. 30th.]

The excitement in the hog market and prices are still going up. A sale of 1200 to a packer was made yesterday at $6.50, and 400 head at $4.95, and the latter price was freely offered by packers. A corner took 300 head from the books at $6.90. In the product the only sales were 1,000 brls mess pork packed at Crawfordsville, and deliverable on the 1st of January at $16, and 300 bbls city packed on the spot at the same. Packers were generally holding above that figure. There was nothing doing in piece meats, which are held at advanced figures. All the houses were killing yesterday.

[From the Boston Advertiser, 30th.]

Pork is in moderate demand. Sales of prime at $11@12; mess $15@15.50; clear and extra clear [illegible] cash and four months. Beef is dull. Small sales of Eastern and Western mess and extra mess at [illegible] per bbl cash and four months. Lard is in steady demand, sales in brls at [illegible] per lb, cash and decline. Hams are selling at 10@[illegible]c cash and 4 mos.

[From the Milwaukee Sentinel, 1st.]

DRESSED HOGS.—Prices of Dressed Hogs ruled a shade higher than yesterday, receipts being very light, but including 300 lbs and upwards [illegible]

Yards sold at $5.50@6.00, and light hogs at $5 @5.75. The weather becoming warm in the afternoon, the market was weaker, and one lot averaging 250 lbs were sold at $5.25. We note the following sales:

[illegible]

Receipts to-day were 282 head, making the total number of hogs received since the beginning of the packing season, 11,283.

PROVISIONS.—In addition to the transactions noted yesterday, there was another sale of heavy mess pork at $14.50 for Canada trade.

[From the Freeport (Ill.) Journal, 30th.]

Baker and Griffin have now fairly got under way with their pork packing. With a double set of hands they are running night and day. They pack about two hundred barrels this week. Their arrangements for trying the lard are very complete. The kettles and coolers are kept scrupulously neat, and the lard, when tried, is perfectly clean and choice. Some five to six barrels are manufactured daily.

[From the Alton (Ill.) Courier, 30th.]

There is quite an advance in the figures for Hogs, here as well as elsewhere. Whether or no it is permanent may well be doubted. St. Louis packers, at least, are looking to see rates come down quite materially. $3.00@3.50 may be put down as about the ruling figure now. Purchases have been made at $5.25; and $5.50 was yesterday offered for a small lot of very fine animals, which were finally taken by a St. Louis buyer at $5.35.

At Smith's 40 or 50 head of Beeves per day are being put down—nothing doing in Hogs. At Walker & Greenwood's nothing was done on Monday. A few Beeves and about 40 Hogs were killed yesterday, and will be cut up to-day; and from 200 to 300 Hogs are expected in to-day. At Wade's a good business is doing. On Monday 300 Hogs were cut up; and yesterday, 96 Beeves. About 300 Hogs were also killed yesterday for to-day's packing, and more are in pen.

[From the Detroit Tribune, 30th.]

New mess pork has until to-day generally held at $15.00, at which rate packers have disposed of their stock about as fast as it could be packed. The price has now advanced to $16.00. Owing to the scarcity of hogs and the brisk demand, a shade higher rates have been established. The following is the present scale of prices:

[illegible]

[From the Davenport (Iowa) Gazette, 30th.]

The slaughtering and packing is about commenced. A few hundred head only have been slaughtered here as yet, but buyers are engaged bringing them in daily. There is a good demand for live at $3.75 per cwt. and $4.50@5.00 for large dressed.

[From the Louisville Journal.]

THE HOG CROP IN TENNESSEE.—We have been permitted to copy the following letter from a responsible firm in Chattanooga to a house in this city:

CHATTANOOGA, Nov. 25, 1859.

Yours of the 22d inst. duly received, and we note your remarks about hogs, which corroborates all our advices from the Northwest.

The corn crop being light in Tennessee, hogs are being forced off half-fattened, and are now moving very readily to the South; a few thousand have been bought by Southerners at $5 gross, and some by drovers at $4 to $4.50 gross. The Shelbyville packers are paying $5.50 net at the pens, deducting 20 per cent. We have not bought one single hoof, and do not intend to, at these prices. There will be a great glut of hogs here for the next three weeks, and we think we can then buy a few to keep the place greasy, but do not now expect to do more. Tennessee will have full as many hogs as last year, but they may not be quite as heavy, and they are in different localities from last year. A much less number will be slaughtered in the packing houses, but more by the farmers, and more will be shipped to the South than last year. This slaughtering by the farmers tells bad for the trade, as they keep the prices down until their stock is exhausted. But you may rely on it that Tennessee has full as many or more hogs for market than last year, and they will not be in as good hands.

Weather too warm for operations for a week past until this morning, when it is turning cold.

[From the Pittsburg Gazette, 30th.]

Hogs firm; weather continues favorable, and slaughtering is going on actively; sales of 300 head at 4¼c, gross.

[From the Toronto Globe, 30th.]

Pork is in very active request at better prices, $5.75@6.00 being paid freely yesterday for good hogs. In other articles there was no change to notice.

[From the Petersburg (Ill.) Axis, 26th.]

This week, our local market for fattened hogs has improved rapidly. On Monday $3.50 gross was offered, and on Wednesday 3.75 was being paid. The week will close with 4.00.

[From the Palmyra (Mo.) Courier, 26th.]

The first pen of hogs, numbering about three hundred, were slaughtered on Tuesday, at the establishment of of Mr. Joseph W. Thompson, in this city. Mr. T. is prepared this year to do a larger business than at any previous season, and farmers who desire to sell their hogs may rely upon receiving as high prices at Palmyra as at any point in the Mississippi Valley. The meats packed at Mr. Thompson's establishment have gained a wide reputation, and are used in the large hotels in the East in preference to any other. Presbury, Sykes & Co., of the Girard House, Philadelphia, buy all their hams from this house, and pronounce them of very superior character. Persons hard up for cash can easily replenish their exchequer by driving a lot of fat porkers to this city, where Mr. T. has good money awaiting their arrival. The opening of the pork packing season generally revives business of all kinds, and sets money afloat in the community.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette, Nov. 30.]

Under the influence of light receipts of hogs, the market has been much excited since the date of our last weekly report, and an advance has been established of 50c per 100 lbs, closing at 6.10@6.30—6.25 the leading figure for 200 lb averages. There were occasional signs of weakness this afternoon, but receipts being meagre and several operators having worked themselves into the notion of a short crop, we could not see any indication of an immediate decline, though we have no doubt with large supplies—say 10,000 head per day—the aspect of the trade would change materially. There is now a sweeping excitement in the market for hogs and hog products, which is carrying everything before it, and parties who undertake to keep in the current are carried ahead by the apparently mysterious influences that control the trade. Several houses dropped out when prices touched $6, and are holding back, awaiting the developments of the next two weeks, within which time it is supposed supplies will be more liberal. A large number of hogs, and a still greater amount of products have been sold short, the deliveries of the latter being chiefly for January and February, and thus a powerful "bull" support is being secured. All this is working very well for farmers who are realizing high prices for their hogs, fully $2 per head more than they had any reason to expect. This of course stimulates feeders, who are giving extra attention to their stock making them as fat as possible. Corn cannot be more profitably disposed of than by putting into hogs. It will prove a paying business, even if present prices should not be sustained. The movement will also increase the crop, and thus a larger amount of money will be disbursed in the interior than was anticipated. We suppose that it is safe to say that the 50c added on to prices the past week will add 200,000 hogs to the crop. Farmers will not put up many for their own use while they can sell them at from $12 to $14 per head. The pork operators, therefore, whatever may be in store for their own pockets, are doing a splendid business for the West. There is danger, however, that Eastern operators will not take hold freely at present figures, and that Western capital must do the business as it did last year.—Our currency is now very nearly as high as New York prices, and the latter market has but little buoyancy compared with ours.

The receipts for the past week were 29,065 head, and for the season 89,264. The following comparative exhibit is from the Price Current:

By Railways	14,011
By River	1,872
From Kentucky	10,562
Driven in	2,620
Total for the week	29,065
Previously reported	60,199
Total this season	89,264

[illegible]

The business at Louisville also falls largely short of last year. Annexed is a comparison of the receipts at both places:

[illegible table: Cincinnati, Louisville, Totals, 1859 and 1858]

The business is correspondingly backward at other packing points.

Mess pork closed strong at $15.75 on the spot, and $16 for January and February delivery, and holders were, in most cases, asking $16 for the former, and $16.50@17 for the latter. Bulk meats were in active request at 5¼ and 7¼ packed for shoulders and sides, but holders are now firm at 6c and 8c. Green meats are held at 5, 7¼ and 8c for shoulders, sides and hams, with sales of the latter at the quotation. Lard closed with a fair demand at 10c for barrel; keg held at 11c. All the bacon in market, about 850 hhds, is controlled by two or three houses, who are asking 8 and 9½c for shoulders and sides; a small lot of the latter sold to-day at 9½c, packed.

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, Dec. 1.

ARRIVED AT OSWEGO FROM CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—Bark Norman and schrs. Acontias, Titan, Harriet Ross and C. C. Griswold.

VESSELS PASSING DETROIT, Nov. 30.—Up—Props Concord, Pittsburg; schrs. Wm. Case, Rush, Harwich.

Down—Props. Rocket, Comet; bark Republic; brig E. W. Cross; schr do, Andrews, D. Tod, Berlin, Ketchum, Oriole, Shook, Maria F. Johnson, C. N. Johnson, Marquette, H. C. Winslow, brig Kenbridge. Weather pleasant with moderate south breeze.

THE SCHOONER DANE.—The schooner reported by the prop. Hunter as ashore on Bois Blanc Island, proves to be the schr. Dane, with a cargo of 1,200 brls salt. The tug Leviathan has gone to her relief and will doubtless get her off should the weather prove favorable.

ASHORE.—We learn from Capt. Jones, of the schooner Hirondelle, that the brig Missouri went ashore about six miles north of Kalamazoo, in the late gale, about 2 o'clock Saturday morning. She was light and a very old boat, and has gone to pieces.

AGROUND.—The Cleveland Leader states that the schr. Tracey J. Bronson, from Chicago with 16,300 bu wheat, consigned to Hickox, in entering the harbor Monday afternoon, grounded just north of Lighthouse street bridge. The tugs Peter Smith and Dan. P. Rhodes went to her assistance, but were unable to get her afloat.

OFF.—The schooner Huntress is off and unloading at Mackinac. One-half of her cargo will be a total loss.

FROM LAKE SUPERIOR.—The propeller General Taylor arrived yesterday morning from Lake Superior. She left the Mineral Rock at Portage Entry. She will lay up at Ontonagon. During the severe gale of Friday night the Taylor [illegible] The steamer Forester [illegible] remained in Whisky Bay. Nothing was seen of the steamer Forester, either by the Taylor or by the Montgomery, which arrived on Sunday, and fears are entertained that she may have been damaged in the gale. The General Taylor now goes into winter quarters.—Det. Adv., 30th.

☞ The steamer Forester is safe. She was at Mackinac on Sunday.—Det. Trib., 30th.

EFFECTS OF THE GALE.—The Propeller Rocket, which passed down to-day, reports that during the storm of Thursday last the schooner Hague, at anchor in Mackinac Straits, dragged foul of the schooner Racer, carrying away her jibboom, bowsprit and stacking up her head stays. Captain Adams, of the Racer, being alarmed for the safety of his vessel, sent two men off in a boat to the [illegible] [illegible] the men who had been taken up by the Leviathan [illegible] at Mackinaw. [illegible] but will be towed here in the course of a week.—Detroit Tribune.

☞ The schooner C. North is ashore on McGulpin's Point, near old Mackinac. She is aground bound and will probably be got off without much difficulty.—Detroit Tribune.

☞ The schooner Australia, owned in Toronto, and carrying coal for the gas company of that city is ashore in Gravelly Bay.—Det. Tribune.

COLLISION.—The propeller General Taylor while coming into the St. Clair river Monday evening, ran into the schooner Shook, which was lying at anchor, carrying away the vessel's fore top mast, also her rail stanchions and bulwarks on the starboard bow.—Det. Advertiser.

RAISED.—The steamer Sultana, which was partly sunk near the Great Western Railway dock in Windsor, was yesterday raised by means of a steam pump, and taking back to her moorings. She is not seriously damaged.—Det. Advertiser.

DISABLED.—The schooner Belle Sheridan, bound from Chicago to this port with wheat, arrived in the Welland Canal Saturday afternoon with her fore sail split and boat stove.—Oswego Times.

☞ The schooner Titan, with wheat from Chicago for this port, lost her fore gaff and fore sail in the gale of Friday night and Saturday, and was driven into Kingston. She arrived here this afternoon.—Oswego Times.

THE WATCH QUESTION.—

American vs. Foreign Watches.

A CARD.

THE ONLY ENTIRELY SATISFACTORY PROOF OF A GOOD WATCH IS, THAT IT TELLS CORRECTLY AND WITHOUT INTERRUPTION, THE TRUE TIME OF DAY. All other tests are illusory. If the Watch will not perform equally and with accuracy, it is to no purpose whatever that it is elaborately finished, that curious shapes and patented devices are adopted, that novel components and ingenious contrivances for compensation are introduced, or that the whole is covered by a famous name and by a massive and costly case. Hundreds of worthless Watches are beautifully finished and some are exquisitely contrived to run badly and wear out quickly. A great deal of work is most often a great deal of complexity, and all will admit that no amount of mere polish will advantage any piece that is radically malformed or ineffectually fitted. It is SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION, and such mathematical correctness in the size and shape of every part as the application of machinery to the purpose alone insures, that, with sufficient nicety of finish accomplishes the desired result.

The founders and managers of the American Watch Company at Waltham are determined to make TIME-KEEPERS whether they make money or not. They do not undervalue ornament, but they feel that they cannot overvalue TIME. THIS IS THE MEANING OF THEIR WHOLE ESTABLISHMENT. Thoroughly familiar, by practical experience, with the evils inherent in foreign Watches—evils which all Watch dealers will bear them out in saying, render nearly worthless for all purposes of time-keeping a large majority of foreign Watches—they aim, through the substitution of mechanical science, for the uncertain judgment of the eye and imperfect skill of the hand, to produce an article that shall not only look like a watch but perform the duties of a Watch, adorning it with such a degree of finish as is sufficient, and which, through costliness, will not put it above the reach of any class in the community. And THAT THEY HAVE DONE THIS, AND ARE DOING IT, they confidently appeal to the thousands whose daily coming and going is regulated by Waltham Watches to say. In every system, even the best, there will be imperfections, and instances of failure doubtless occur in the Waltham manufacture, but in a system which produces Watches which are IDENTICAL rather than SIMILAR, the proportion of such must be reduced to a minimum.

Having achieved this decisive victory, a victory with a reason for it—the American Watch Company is far from being disappointed at the frequent and unscrupulous opposition it meets from many in the importing business. This opposition was to have been expected, and the occasion of it will be apparent to any one who considers the extent of the importer's trade, and its highly profitable character. The Company has no reason to be dissatisfied with the amount of patronage it receives, since it is obliged by the multiplication of orders, largely to increase its force, and to work by night as well as day; but it is not content that any portion of the community should be misled as to the real merit of its Watches. Unfortunately there is no article in common use which people generally so little understand as a Watch, and a man's watchmaker is his only reliance for judgment. So long, therefore, as imported Watches yield a rich profit to the importer, the Company expect a good deal of decrying and disparagement, wise shaking of the head and faint praise.

The Company is gratified to be able to say, however, that there are hundreds in the trade whose supreme interest is not in importation, or in an old stock on hand, who have no national antipathies to an American Watch; who, indeed, from patriotic motives, would rather distribute them, even if they were not twice as sound and honest, and cheap as any other—with whom Waltham Watches may be found. The Company confidently maintains that its Watches will abide the conclusive test of time-keeping, and upon that ground it is content to rest its claims to the general patronage. The public will bear in mind that these Watches are made for reputation, and with the responsibility of perpetual guaranty constantly in view; for, however they may change hands, wherever and whenever they are found faulty, the Company is bound to make them good.

CAUTION.—As our Watch is now extensively counterfeited by foreign manufacturers, we have to inform the public that no Watch is of our production which is unaccompanied by a certificate of genuineness, bearing the number of the Watch, and signed by our Treasurer, R. E. ROBBINS, or by our predecessors, APPLETON, TRACY & CO.

☞ As these Watches are for sale by Jewelers generally, throughout the Union, we do not solicit orders for single Watches. For the American Watch Company,

ROBBINS & APPLETON,
General Agents, 182 Broadway, N. Y.

NEW LAW BOOKS.

JUST PUBLISHED BY

LITTLE, BROWN & CO.,

NO. 112 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON.

PARSONS ON MARITIME LAW;

A TREATISE ON MARITIME LAW,

Including therein the Law of Shipping, the Law of Insurance, and the Law and Practice of Admiralty.

By Hon. THEOPHILUS PARSONS, L. L. D., Dane Professor of Law in Harvard University.

In two vols..........8vo..........Price $11.00.

The publishers of this work offer it to the profession in the belief that it will supply an actual and important want. The Law of Shipping, the Law of Marine Insurance, and the Law and Practice of Admiralty, are here considered, not as independent and isolated topics, as they are in treatises now in use, but as branches from one stem, which is Maritime Law. The first Book contains the Law of Shipping; the second, the Law of Marine Insurance; the third, the Law of Admiralty; and the fourth, the Practice of Admiralty; the second, third and fourth Books being contained in the second volume. It is confidently hoped that the student and practicing lawyer will find that these volumes present all the questions suggested by either of these topics, illustrated with all the light derivable from an exhaustive investigation of the authorities of this country, of England, and, to some extent, of Continental Europe; while the leading cases are so fully stated, and all the authorities so cited and arranged, as to facilitate any further inquiry.

TO THE BE-DRUGGED AND POISONED CITIZENS OF CHICAGO. You are overrun with a deluge of the vilest compounds in the form of "ALCOHOLIC DRINKS" that ever emanated from that pest of society, the Liquor Mixer. They are sold to you as a luxury, or they are dispensed to you as a medicine, and in either case the effect is the same. There is but one way to escape, and that is to use as a luxury or a medicine, a safe and reliable stimulant, sold under stamp and seal, which renders it certain that it has not been tampered with. Such an article is Charles' London Cordial Gin. Which is distilled under inspection of the British Government, is delicately flavored (unlike any other Gin) with some of the most valuable restoratives of the VEGETABLE KINGDOM, And is by far the most healthy beverage extant. The most eminent physicians of Europe and America not only recommend its use by the hale and hearty, but prescribe it as a medicine where a stimulant is required. The female sex will find it not only a pleasant CORDIAL, But a certain relief in sufferings of a periodical character. Analytical chemists of all ranks pronounce it perfectly pure, and its restorative merits incomparable. Sold only in quart and pint bottles by all Druggists, Grocers, etc. FENTON & CO., 94 Lake street, opposite Tremont House.

BENNINGTON, McLEAN COUNTY, ILLINOIS. The town of Bennington is located near the centre of the Township of Chenoa, and is surrounded with as good farming lands as there is in the State, dry and rolling, on the height of land between the Vermillion and Mackinaw streams, the State Road passing through on the East; the Chicago, Alton & St. Louis Railroad in the centre, and the County Road on the West. It is proposed to build a branch road to intersect the Peoria and Oquawka Road, 3½ miles distant. It will be the most convenient and accessible point to a Railroad for at least twelve Townships, South and Southeast from Bennington, (except Lexington,) four miles South-west on the Mackinaw. An Agency was obtained for selling the Land adjoining the town previous to its location, at an affixed price, and they will be sold at the same price until the first of November next. For the benefit of those who wish to avail themselves of the liberal offer in the TRIBUNE, of this week, for Twenty-five Families to colonize the above town, we will say:—The town plat contains thirty-three acres, divided into 113 lots and a public square; 25 of these lots are set apart to be appropriated for a Church, and other benevolent purposes. There is, within one mile of said town, nine farm houses and nine hundred acres of grain the present season. There will be a call for a meeting of those who will deposit their names and address within ten days—post Office box 194. Will have a number of applications, and should the number overrun twenty-five, we will select from the best material.

INSURANCE. W. B. LOUNSBURY, Agent. I have been appointed GENERAL AGENT of the METROPOLITAN FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, OF NEW YORK CITY. For all the Western, North-western and South-western States; consequently have resigned my agency of several companies heretofore represented for the purpose of taking risks in this city, in order to confine my business to a less number of companies, and thus enabling me to attend to the Western business of the "Metropolitan." I have, therefore, retained four companies only, such as I can confidently say are among the best in the world. They are as follows, to wit:

METROPOLITAN FIRE INSURANCE CO., N. Y. City. Assets $400,000.
PARK FIRE INSURANCE CO., New York City. Assets $250,000.
CHARTER OAK FIRE INSURANCE CO., Hartford. Assets $350,000.
PROVIDENCE WASH'N FIRE INS. CO., Providence. Assets $330,000.
CHARTER OAK LIFE INSURANCE CO., Hartford. Assets $650,000.
W. B. LOUNSBURY, Agent. 145½ South Water street.

CHICAGO,

OLD JOHN BROWN.

John Brown is no longer among th[e living]. He has gone up higher. He has p[assed] the realm of expediencies to the u[n]... mising sunlight of God. Let us t[urn] those who have strangled him, equ[ally] those who have clamored for his bl[ood] leave him to the just tribunal of the ... —not insisting that he be now sent t[o] which burneth with fire and brimsto[ne] errors, whatever they were, have bee[n] ed by his death. His virtues, though[...] as the sands on the shore, will have ... reward. It is safe to leave him to ... ment of that Judge before whom ... afraid to appear.

We need fire no salvos of artillery ... grave; we want no attempts to mak[e] capital out of the dust to which his ... returned. But let men pray if they ... supplication shall be that Heaven in ... may save the country, in all its parts, ... horrors of a servile insurrection, and ... fanaticism and madness of those w[ho] ... excite one.
